Aid cut squeezes schools

Borrowing looms ahead for the Granite City school district due to a revenue-cost imbalance worsened by state funding cutbacks, it was asserted at Tuesday night's Board of Education meeting.

"Projected state aid to be received in the July 1977-June 1978 fiscal year is based on the latest printout received from the state," Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs, said.

"Based on this information, the school aid formula will be funded at 89.5 per cent of full funding," it was related, complicating financial planning for the remainder of the 1976-77 year as well as 1977-78.

"It is my opinion the following conclusions can be made on this year's finances," Heubner told the board.

1. "The Education Fund will have to provide the Transportation Fund $197,000 to meet expenses projected for the balance of this year.

2. "The Education Fund will have to support a deficit in the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund in the amount of $50,000 to

Banks, some offices to close Monday

Quad-City area banks, savings and loan firms, federal and state offices will close Monday in observance of another holiday—Washington's birthday. Banks also will close Saturday.

There will be no mail delivery, but all public and parochial schools will be open. Madison and Venice students will have a day off Friday, however, because of district meetings for administrators and faculty.

City offices in Granite City, Madison and Venice will be open Monday. The Madison County courthouse at Edwardsville will be closed.

New precincts may be formed

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The possibility of adding three or four precincts in Granite City and of attempting to match up the boundaries and number of the precincts used for city, township and county balloting is to be discussed between now and June by city and county officials.

Presently, there are 31 city precincts in Granite City Township, which shares the same boundaries as the city. There are, however, 32 precincts used for voting in county elections, all located within the township boundaries. The question as to whether some of these precincts are larger than allowed by law was raised during Wednesday morning's Madison County Board meeting at Edwardsville by Dan Partney of Granite City, a member of the County Board.

Miss Evelyn Bowles, county clerk, said law limits the number of registered voters in a precinct to 800, but some in Granite City have as high as 1,100 or 1,200 registered voters.

Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Don Smith said any voter or candidate could challenge the outcome of an election if some of the precincts were larger than allowed by law.

CARROLL BRIGHT

Former city official dies

Carroll Bright, 79, of Laguna Beach, Calif., formerly controller for the City of Granite City, died Monday evening in a Laguna Beach Hospital. He had been ill several months.

He was born in Fairfield, Ill., and resided in this area for 35 years, moving back to Fairfield in 1958. When he retired 10 years ago, Mr. Bright moved to California.

Mr. Bright served as city controller here from 1931 to 1947 and also worked for Moody Chevrolet and the First Granite City National Bank.

He was a charter member of the Third Baptist Church and served as treasurer and deacon at the church. Active in community affairs in Granite City, Mr. Bright also belonged to the Rotary and Optimist Clubs.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Vena Bright; one daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Brock; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, all of Laguna Beach.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the First Baptist Church, Fairfield, Ill. Burial will be in Fairfield Cemetery.

Arrest in robbery at massage parlor

Less than an hour after a masked and armed man robbed the Green Dragon Health Spa, 3801 Lake Drive, Monday night, police apprehended a suspect on the basis of a description of a car used by the robber.

Employees at the health spa told authorities that a man wearing a black mask and holding a pistol entered the place shortly after 9 p.m. Monday and said, "This is a holdup. I want all the money."

The robber took approximately $150 and fled the scene in an auto.

A description of the car was given Pontoon Beach police who broadcast the description over the Illinois State Police Emergency Radio Network (ISPERN).

At about 9:45 p.m., authorities said, Wood River police saw an auto parked in a driveway that fit the description of the one sought.

Police arrested Donald Ott, 25, of Wood River, who was charged with armed robbery. Bond was set Tuesday at $55,000 by Associate Circuit Judge A.A. Mateosian. Ott was taken to the Madison County Jail in lieu of bond.

Wood River police said they recovered a pistol and a sum of money approximating the amount taken.

Police said Ott would make no statement concerning the charges.

Madison has produced two persons named Dr. A. Purdes, a coincidence unlikely to prove confusing because the cousins now reside in separate cities.

They are Dr. Alice Purdes of the Venice School faculty and Dr. Andrew Joseph Purdes of Rolling Meadows, Ill.

The latter received the degree of doctor of philosophy in the field of materials science and engineering at Northwestern University in June 1975.

17 to start ambulance instruction

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City will be prepared to initiate emergency ambulance service by March 15 in a program that will involve only minimal costs during the first year of operation, the City Council was informed during its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Paul Schuler and Fire Chief Don Parente who have spearheaded efforts to replace emergency service formerly provided by Thomas Ambulance Service told the council members that they have been successful in obtaining personnel to operate the service from Madison County's manpower program.

Parente said three ambulances will be operated, one out of the Nameoki Fire Station at Richmond Avenue and Johnson Road, and two out of the main fire station at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue. Training of new employees as emergency medical technicians is expected to get underway Monday, Parente said.

Schuler told the council that Dan Churovich, director of the Comprehensive Employee Training Act (CETA) in Madison County has agreed to provide the city with 17 men to take EMT training and operate the ambulances.

Following Tuesday night's meeting, Schuler told the Press-

MR. AND MRS. DALE A. ANDERSON whose wedding took place at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ. The bride is the former Miss Susan M. Province, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie G. Province, 524 English Place, Mitchell.

Susan Province becomes Mrs. Dale A. Anderson

Tall urns holding arrangements of yellow, orange and bronze carnations and pompons intermingled with greenery decorated the sanctuary of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ for the wedding on Jan. 29 of Miss Susan M. Province and Dale A. Anderson.

The Rev. Robert Kettelhut performed a double ring ceremony at 6 o'clock in the evening. Organist Alan Wood played, "The Wedding Song," "Colour My World" and "The Lord's Prayer." Linda Bennett was the soloist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie G. Province, 524 English Place. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Anderson, 4016 Division St.

For her wedding the former Miss Province chose an ivory delustrated satin gown fashioned with a modified bodice of reembodyered Alencon lace motifs etched with pearls, a high scallop neckline and long tapered sleeves, accented with lace.

Lace appliques were repeated on the long skirt which extended into a full sweep train.

She wore a Alencon lace cap enhanced with pearls to hold in place her lace bordered veil, and she carried a nosegay of yellow roses, baby's breath and greenery festooned with ivory satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Sherrie L. Marcum and bridesmaids included Miss Janet Bunselmeyer, Miss Peggy Smith and Miss Alice Cotter. Laurie Morris and Karen Marcus served as candlelighters.

The attendants, candlelighters and soloist were dressed alike in long brown velvet dresses trimmed in an ivory satin and lace, crested with long sleeves, a satin yoke and featuring ivory sashes.

They held nosegays of yellow, orange and brown carnations, yellow and orange roses and baby's breath, tied with ivory streamers.

Danny VanScoyk attended the groom as best man. Ronnie Anderson, a brother of the groom, Ronnie Briggs and Bruce Bennett, served as groomsmen.

James L. Province, a brother of the bride, and Brian Gaddie escorted the guests to their seats.

Immediately following the service a reception was held at the Croatian Home in Madison.

The rehearsal dinner was served at the Heritage House, St. Louis.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School.

The bride also graduated from Hickory Business School, St. Louis, in 1975 and is employed in the personnel department of the First National Bank, St. Louis.

The groom was graduated from Bailey Technical School, St. Louis and works at A. O. Smith Corp.

They are residing in Granite City.

NEW CBER IN TOWN. Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, right, enjoys the comments of Ken DeWitt, vice-president of the Flipper-Tail CB Radio Club of Granite City, while receiving an honorary membership certificate into the 400-member club on Monday evening at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl. His Honor joins the ranks of 10 million Cbers, who find the hobby proves invaluable in highway emergencies and inclement weather conditions. About 250 witnessed the presentation. The Flipper-Tails, a family-type club, convenes each Monday night at the local bowling lanes' 300 Room.

CB radio sky-rockets into record-breaking popularity

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff writer
"Ten Four Good Buddy. You be clean and green to that of Gateway Town, so put the hammer down. We're going to lay the good numbers on you."

"This be the one Kansas Nighthawk, streaking west to the Queen City. We be Ten Ten on the side."

It comes across to the uninitiated ear like a foreign language, stated in a singsong voice with nasal undertones, reminiscent of cowboy lyrics, sung by Hank Williams.

This is the world of Citizen's Band radio, now populated by millions of Americans who are enthusiastically involved, and disliked by others who believe it's a childish pastime.

CB radio is personal communication, a lifeline in emergencies, a past-time for some and a vital necessity to the men driving the over-the-road freight trucks.

The Kansas Nighthawk is the driver of an 18-wheeler (large truck) telling a fellow trucker he has understood the latter's inquiry (10-4) and his path to St. Louis (Gateway Town) is clear of police and accidents (clean and green), so speed up (put the hammer down).

Nighthawk concluded the conversation by saying goodbye (lay the good numbers), that he was travelling west (streaking west) to Springfield, Mo. (Queen City) and would be listening on his CB radio for further communication (10-10 on the side).

Citizen's Band radio buffs, now estimated at a conservative 10 million, are drawn to the hobby from all walks of life and economic status.

Whether they live in rural or metropolitan regions and travel short distances or cross-country, the lure of CB has caught the imagination of the four-wheeler (auto) driver who likes to be entertained, informed and become an active participant of life on the road.

CB radio's phenomenal growth was launched just a couple of years ago, although it's been around for nearly two decades.

Class D Citizen's Band was authorized by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in 1958 to provide for short distance radio communications.

It took 16 years for the first million CB licenses to be issued; some six months for the next million CB licenses and only 90 days after that to break through to three million CB licenses.

The amazing upswing in CB radio usage has occurred since the oil embargo created a shortage of gasoline in November 1973, and the related lowering of the national speed limit to 55 mph.

Publicity on the truckers' use of CB, introduction of new equipment models and the average motorist learning the benefits of communicating with the 18-wheelers and each other while traveling, added to the popularity of CB radio communication.

CB radio, however, has been part of the life and job of the interstate truck driver for many years. He has developed a colorful language of his own and rigid rules of etiquette to follow while conversing.

Not firmly established through song and legend as the newest American "folk hero," the big rig haulers use the CB to check road conditions ahead, find out if a receiving dock or chicken coop (weight station) is open, get "Ten-Five's" (relayed messages) from base stations and his company and alert other drivers to emergency situations.

Getting into CB opens up a whole new range of personal communications and brings membership in the fraternity of the road, from which the average motorist previously was excluded and still is today if the CBER is disinterested on the air.

Most four-wheelers are mannerly and limit conversations to brief exchanges and inquiries while transiting on Channel One Nine, commonly known as the "truckers' channel" and most frequently used in highway travel.

Many will switch to another channel (there have always been 23 and now there are 30 channels) when modulating (talking) for any length of time. Other Cbers are not so agreeable and those are quickly reprimanded in picturesque language by the professionals (who like to gossip more than anyone, if the traffic and airwaves are slow) and often are chastised by their fellow motorists.

"Ratchet jaws," as long-winded talkers are called by the big rig drivers, are a constant nuisance to all motorists, as well as the 18-wheelers, the truckers say. Important messages can be missed; drivers remain unalarmed to hazardous road conditions; and who wants to hear about someone's latest fishing trip, anyway?

By contrast, the channel gets conspicuously quiet and all ears (antennae) are tuned in when a gear jammer (truck driver) is attempting to persuade some sweet-looking beaver (good-looking girl) to join him for a 100-mile coffee (a cup of strong coffee) at the next bean store (restaurant).

The opportunity to exchange pleasantries with sweet-looking beavers breaks the monotony of a long trip, when you're moving out with the hammer down (driving at full speed) for 500 miles at a stretch, the truckers say.

There is a common bond between the 18-wheelers, four-wheelers, pick 'em up (pickup trucks) and the highway patrol officers (Smokies), a noticeable fact in Missouri.

Even the warning, "Back 'em up, there's a place pretaker at Marker Two One One and a smoky in the grass at Marker Two One Five, hanging out green stamps," (Slow up. There's a police officer with a radar unit at Mile Marker 211 and a policeman in the median issuing tickets at Mile Marker 215) fails to irritate the officers. Missouri Highway Patrol officers, whose squad cars are equipped with CB radios—the first state in the nation to have done so—frequently converse with the Cbers.

"After all, our objective is to slow down the traffic flow and prevent accidents and use of the CB accomplishes that," Friendly Persuader (CB handle) of the Missouri Highway Patrol commented recently.

Cbers are quick to alert us if there is trouble on the road and often have averted serious accidents by warning us a Weaving Willy (drunk driver) is mobile, or someone is traveling the wrong way on a nearly deserted superhighway (interstate highway), the state patrolman said.

The fascination of communicating with strangers and friends under the anonymity of a pseudonym (nickname or handle) is luring even the most dignified of individuals into the skyrocketing spectrum of Citizen's Band radio.

Mrs. Betty Ford, while still the nation's First Lady, became an avid Cber, joining the ranks and using the handle, "First Mama."

Many Cbers have organized into clubs for friendship and social activities, also to keep informed about the latest equipment and operating techniques.

Some clubs offer training to new CB radio owners; sponsor service projects within their community; and aid traveling motorists with information concerning emergency services available in their home twenty (twenty) miles.

One of the largest clubs in the local area is the Flipper-Tail CB Radio Club of Granite City, whose membership is close to tipping the 400 mark.

Members come from Collinsville, Edwardsville and St. Louis. In addition to the Quad-Cities, Bill Skinner, president, advised.

Skinner, whose CB handle is Nutsman, said, "Our members don't just sit around and ratchet-jaw (gossip) on their radios."

"Last fall we raised money for the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon and presented the donations at a program at North West Plaza Shopping Center in St. Louis County."

Three local families in need benefited at Christmastime from holiday baskets of canned goods, plus a ham. All were donated by our members."

"Flipper-Tail members monitor the CB channels and help travelers by calling police, firemen and ambulances in emergencies. We also provide local information and up-to-the-minute highway conditions," Skinner noted.

gossip," Skinner explained. "We are a family-type group and meet in the 300 Room at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl, 3701 Nameoki Road, at 7 p.m. each Monday."

Other than the first Monday of each month when the club has a closed business session for members only, "we are happy to see guests and prospective members at our meetings," the club president announced.

The biggest project on the Flipper-Tails agenda right now is organizing a "CB Break," a special program—social activity for members, guests, equipment distributors and dealers. The event is planned for May 29 at the Croatian Hall, Tenth Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

Between 700 and 1,000 Cbers are expected to attend, coming here from Missouri, Kentucky, Arkansas and other nearby states.

Cole Beatty (Mojo Man), public relations director for the Flipper-Tails, said the May break probably will be the largest ever to be held in this region.

Pointing out the value of CB radio during an emergency, Beatty related an incident occurring in late January in which club members heard a woman on the channel calling for help.

"The woman was heard asking for a base station in Granite City to respond early one morning during last month's severe weather."

"She had an 8-week-old infant in the car with her and was returning to Granite City after taking her husband to work in Edwardsville when her car 'break' up," said the Bel Air Drive-In Theater and wouldn't start," Beatty said.

"In exactly 15 minutes two or three of our members got out of bed, dressed and reached her. On the way back I radioed ahead to my wife to heat up some milk for the baby and make some hot coffee and took the lady and child to my home," he explained.

"In the sub-zero temperatures that morning, it wouldn't have taken long for that little baby to freeze," he commented.

"You hear of many such instances, especially in the bad weather," Beatty added.

Many rural families depend on their CB radio to contact neighbors when telephone lines are down due to heavy snow or a storm, and in several outlying areas of Missouri, "round-robin" checks are made on elderly persons living in remote sections.

"Cbers don't fit into any specific category of people," Beatty said. "In our club, we have computer analysts, insurance salesmen, steel workers from the local plant and almost any other type of job or profession you can imagine." At Monday night's meeting at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler became a honorary member of the Flipper-Tail CB Radio Club.

Beta Eta Chapter views patriotic puppet show

A puppet show entitled "Patriotic Puppets" was presented by Mrs. Carol Wohlford at a February luncheon of the Beta Eta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International held at the Edwardsville Masonic Temple. She wrote the script and made the puppets using Mr. Yankee Doodle as master of ceremonies. He introduced four famous women in history including Betsy Ross, the flag maker; Harriet Tubman, the underground railway; Susan B. Anthony, early women's rights; and Sacagawea, the Indian girl guide with the Lewis and Clark expedition.

Mrs. Virginia Oram, president, conducted the business meeting and welcomed teachers from many schools in Madison County.

Mrs. Esther Vasileff, violinist, and Mrs. Audrey Deeren, pianist, presented the "Romance Concerto" and also accompanied the group for singing of "A Time to Sing."

"We've Only Just Begun."

It was announced that two members were initiated into Phi Delta Kappa during the weekend. They were Mrs. Vasileff and Mrs. Margaret Connelley. Until the last few years, this organization has been limited to men and was the brother education organization to Delta Kappa Gamma.

Attendance at the Illinois State Convention of Delta Kappa Gamma, which is to be held March 25-27 at Stouffville Riverfront Inns, was stressed. About 37 members indicated that they planned to attend some of the sessions. One of the highlights will be the honoring of charter members of the Beta Eta Chapter, which started in 19 members, will have 13 members to be honored. Among those from the local area are Mrs. Vivian Dine, Mrs. Georgia Engleke, Miss Nell Hart, Mrs. Barbara Williams, and Miss Cleo Ullrich.

Mrs. Connelley reported the state legislative committee will have an active role in the convention and that she will be serving as the chairman for some sessions.

Presenting a late report, due to the cancellation of the January meeting of the group, was Mrs. Helen Purkale. She told of the joy and excitement which greeted her and Mrs. Oram during the Christmas season when they delivered about 150 gaily wrapped gifts to the Professional Care Home in Troy, for the residents. Each Beta Eta member had selected at least two gifts for this organization so that many of the patients would be sure to have at least one "gift from Santa."

Mrs. Purkale added that paperback books and matches would be collected at the March meeting, to be sent to the Scott Air Force Base Hospital.

Other local teachers in attendance were Mesdames Jean Hall, Nancy Barnett, Valerie Stevens, Viola Edwards, Gladys Pape, Nancy Ranier, Irene Cook, Ann Harn, Martha Jean Hayes, Catherine Hildebrand, Sandra DeMoulin, Jerrylene Lyne, Florence Van Haften, and Laura Uffers.

Ladies Auxiliary hear Rev. Jolly

The Rev. Margaret Jolly gave a devotional lesson on the topic, "Living For God" at a meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Bethesda Temple, 22nd and State streets.

After the lesson plans were finalized for a mother and daughter dinner to be held at 7 p.m. on May 6 at the church and a homecoming event set for June to pay tribute to fathers.

The group will meet again on March 17 at the church, it was announced.

Those attending were Mildred Browning, Betty Sanders, Mickey Jolly, Carolyn Dovers, Geneva Stephens, Lolita Kohenaky, Connie Chronister, Irma Messenger, Virgil Clapper, Evelyn Childers, Judy White, Brenda Roberts, Brenda Hickman and nephew Charlie Alfaro.

CHURCH WOMEN UNITED planning committee, completing arrangements for the annual World Day of Prayer set for 9:15 a.m., March 4, at Mount Nebo Missionary Baptist Church, 800 Jefferson St., Madison, following the theme "Love in Action." From left to right, Mesdames Joyce Schrader, Mary Ohlendorf, Marion Pierson, Barbara Madison, Shirley Frech, Jane Kennerly.

Total relief amounted to $140 and the 18 orders of clothing, shoes and groceries from the Store Room amounted to $188, she added.

Plans for the annual banquet were discussed and members agreed to hold the event on April 19 with final arrangements to be announced later.

Rev. Caldwell guest speaker

The Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church will welcome the Rev. Charles Caldwell of East Alton United Methodist Church as guest speaker at their morning worship at 10:40 a.m. Sunday while the guest pastor, Rev. Eugene Beasley fulfills a similar guest speaking assignment at St. Luke's United Methodist Church in Maryville and Glen Carbon United Methodist Church.

These exchange assignments will be held this Sunday throughout the Southern Illinois Conference as a part of an effort to interpret the pension needs of the ministers of the conference.

The 445 United Methodist Churches of the Southern Illinois Conference are seeking to enter the Reserve Pension Plan of the General Board of Pensions, and for this purpose are seeking to raise $1,000,000 over the next three years. Ministers' pensions are currently met through current income.

This crusade will enable a more adequate support of those already retired and provide better benefits for those who will retire in future years. March 20 has been designated as "Pension Crusade Sunday," and on this day United Methodists will have the opportunity to underwrite their local church's share of the one million-plus three year goal, Rev. Beasley added.

Hurt on State

Mrs. Phyllis Crosby, 42, Belleville, was injured when her car and the auto of Jesse Woolfolk Jr., Brooklyn, collided at 17th and State streets at 4:40 p.m. Monday.

Woolfolk said his brakes failed at the stop sign, but police charged him with violating the stop sign.

Mrs. Crosby was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a bruise to the left side of her head and was released after x-rays were taken.

Start town

YMCA auditorium, Hagnauer said ground is to be broken about March 1 for a new downtown Granite City building housing offices of the township supervisor, town assessor and certain education administrators. The site formerly was the location of former Central Junior High School.

It is hoped to complete the new town hall rapidly and to finish an extension of Maryville Road — linking Highways 203 and 162 — by this October, Hagnauer reported.

The town building is likely to be transferred ultimately to the city due to the co-extensive nature of the city-township government here, he added.

Maryville Road construction work has started at the southern end of the project, which Hagnauer said upon completion is expected to ease traffic congestion on Pontoon, Johnson and Nameoki roads and other streets.

Sanitary sewers were described as vital to the Nameoki-Chouteau Townships area. While currently delayed by a court appeal, the Area One sewer project has the support of 76 per cent of the population that is affected by it, petitions have indicated, the speaker said.

The county's federally-funded Manpower program has been coordinated by Dan Churovich has provided training for 944 and jobs for 2,100, Hagnauer told the club. Over 3,000 have done summer Manpower work during the past several years, he noted.

While complicated by changing space and design requirements of the Illinois Corrections Department, a proposed new Madison County jail is to be built soon, it was asserted. Plans currently are being revised to conform with the financial limits, he said.

Community Development efforts led by Mary Kane have brought $7 million to Madison County communities over a three-year period, with the Quad-Cities qualifying for $1,588,121, Hagnauer told the Rotarians.

Major Community Development improvements have been financed in each city and township, it was noted, including a Chouteau Township center, Venice bridge renovation, Madison renewal activities and $570,000 toward Granite City sanitary sewer reconstruction.

The National Association of Counties has singled out Illinois counties for six awards — four in Madison County, one in St. Clair and one in Peoria — with local recognition for the environmental testing laboratory, road reference and sign program, general education development tests and low-interest home rehabilitation loans, Hagnauer said.

Purchase of a former bank building has provided more office space for the sheriff, state's attorney and public defender, and rent from part of the structure is helping to pay for it, the club was told.

Extensive Courthouse improvements have included a revamped main lobby, a self-service elevator and a ramp for access by the handicapped, Hagnauer related.

Data processing conversion is proceeding, with next objectives expected to be the voter registration and jury selection processes, it was explained.

Madison County is beginning to replace unsafe bridges and is cooperating with local authorities in planning extensive traffic controls and pedestrian safety provisions along Maryville Road and intersecting streets, the speaker said in response to questions.

President Steve Bristol presided and Robert Lombard was program chairman. Membership expansion goals were outlined by Bill H. Terrell and the Rev. Donald Pierson.

Tickets are being sold for the Rotarians' annual "chili day" March 8. Also discussed were Feb. 22 "crime blocker" instruction and Rotary's spring district conference in Jacksonville.

'Belt tightening' by state — or a tax hike

BY MAURICE W. SCOTT
Executive Vice President
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The 1977 Illinois General Assembly, with a mixture of new faces and seasoned hands, faces a tough hurdle in holding General Revenue Fund expenditures in bounds for fiscal 1978.

Governor James Thompson is correct when he says that the state will have about $200 million in growth from present taxes into the fund for fiscal 1978.

At this writing, total growth from present revenue fund taxes for fiscal 1978 can reasonably be estimated from $400 million to $425 million, but around $110 million had better be socked back into the fund. Otherwise, the balance in the fund on July 1, 1977, will be so low that there will be cash flow problems.

No one knows at this date what deficiency appropriation to complete the 1977 fiscal year will have to be made by the legislature, but a good bet is that it will be around $60 million.

Some around the State House say that the governor is getting a barometer reading and testing the legislative waters, but all sound indications are that he is right.

If his advice is not allowed, a state tax increase is close at hand.

While the State Senate was considering additional bills to select its president, new bills continued to pile up for Assembly processing.

George A. Nichols, veteran Legislative Reference Bureau director, had been asked by legislators to prepare 3,200 bills and resolutions as of Jan. 11. Two years ago, bill requests didn't hit the $3,000 mark until March 11.

Bills pertaining to elections seem to be in the lead. Such bills relate to changing the Illinois primary date, registration by mail, and an open primary which would eliminate mandatory party declaration when voting in a primary.

In the case of Hamer v. Kirk, 65 Ill. 2d 211, filed Nov. 15, 1976, the Illinois Supreme Court held the 33 and one-third per cent assessment and equalization bill for property taxes constitutional. This bill was passed by the General Assembly in 1975.

The court stated that the legislative scheme that gives counties a three-year period to reach this level is not unconstitutional, because a sudden change in assessment policy could lead to chaotic conditions in tax collection procedures.

In the case of Goldstein v. Rosewell, 65 Ill. 2d 335, opinion filed Dec. 3, 1976, the Illinois Supreme Court said that the statute permitting a county to retain four per cent of the state inheritance taxes collected violates the state constitutional provision that prohibits fees based on tax funds, Section 9 of the Illinois Constitution.

In City of Joliet v. Bosworth, 64 Ill. 2d 516, the court had previously struck down a 1974 statute that allowed counties to charge local governmental units the actual cost to the counties of providing tax collection services.

reopen the franchise agreement.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, a member of the committee, said the city would not grant any franchise "until we are guaranteed that we will get back every penny we have paid in phone bills since August."

Blevins said action on the request for an excavation permit should be held up "until we hear more about questions we have on the franchise."

The application asked a permit to make excavations on the north side of the alley south of Rhodes, west of Henry Street, and on the west side of Henry Street, from the alley to Carr Street.

At a banquet Saturday evening, Illinois Lt. Governor Dave O'Neal, an Eagle Scout, will be the main speaker.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler will introduce the speaker. Schuler also an active Scout, will give a welcome on behalf of Scout leaders within the Cahokia Mounds Council, the official conference hosts, with headquarters here.

The successful contestant will compete against representatives from the Alton and Edwardsville BPW clubs at a district speak-off on Feb. 27.

Mrs. McCann's speech focused on the topic, "Discipline," and primarily concerned use of discipline with children.

Mrs. Louise Smith was chosen runner-up and also was named the person making the most progress during the instruction series.

Serving as judges for the contest were Mrs. Beverly Scroggins, a Granite City high school teacher, Attorney Irvin Slate and Mrs. Dorothy Fink, a past president of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and present deputy county clerk of Madison County.

Mrs. McCann and Mrs. Smith will be honored by the local club at its annual awards dinner in April.

Miss Annellen Smith, Individual Development Coordinator for the Business and Professional Women's Clubs in this area, said a Phase II advanced program was completed Feb. 6, with 21 members taking part from the

Faulty lift station causes new problems

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has informed Granite City that it is in violation of seven rules of water pollution control regulations and has asked the city to notify the EPA of whatever steps may be planned to correct a sewer problem and a faulty lift station at the rear of Lockhaven Drive.

The notice was received by the City Council Tuesday night from Robert L. Schleuger, manager of Region Four of the Division of Water Pollution Control, who told the council, "We are most interested in the action to be taken and the time schedule involved in correcting this water pollution problem."

The violations stem from a long-standing problem in a sewer line built by Archer Daniels Midland from its soybean plant on Cargill Road to the Lockhaven lift station. The city has met on numerous occasions with representatives of ADM in an effort to resolve the problem.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer told the council that he and street department officials met earlier this month with Norris Smith, a representative of ADM headquarters at Decatur, Ill., and repeated requests that ADM replace the lift station.

He said Smith told him that he would notify Brewer later of a decision, but that Brewer has not heard from him, except that Smith has asked him for more time to get a company decision.

As a result of the EPA notice, council members repeated earlier warnings that unless the problem is resolved immediately, the city will cut off the sewer line from the ADM plant.

Mayor Paul Schuler told the council: "I believe we should wait another week, and if this is not resolved in that time, we should close down the line."

The problem, Brewer said, is caused by the type of sewage from the ADM plant. He said the waste is of an oily substance that gums up the sewer line and causes the pumps at the lift station to "gum up" and malfunction. ADM at one time replaced the sewer line with a new type of pipe in an effort to resolve the problem.

Brewer told the council he will get in touch with ADM officials again in an effort to determine their plans. The sewer line and the lift station were built by ADM as part of its plant expansion, and then turned it over to the city for maintenance and operation.

Members of the Granite City Evening Kiwanis Club and Breakfast Kiwanis Club attended a Kiwanis District meeting in Edwardsville Tuesday. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss membership and forming of new clubs in the district.

Hit with glass

Harvey J. Pulley, 1539 E. 20th St., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after being struck on the face with a broken beer glass during a disturbance Tuesday night shortly before midnight at Ken and Rose's Lounge, also in the 1500 block of East 20th Street.

Pulley said he and another man were in the lounge and got into an argument. The other man then picked up a beer glass, broke the top of it off by striking it on the bar, and then pushed the broken rim into Pulley's face.

He was taken to the hospital with a deep cut by his left eye and other facial injuries.

Vote divided on buying 3 handguns for police

On three to two vote Monday night, the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors gave permission to the State Park Volunteer Police Unit to purchase three handguns, an item never before purchased with grant funds from the township.

A letter was read at the meeting from James Keel Sr., president of the police unit, requesting the town board consider releasing $490 of the grant given the police department. He said three handguns are needed to loan new members of the police department until they can purchase their own guns.

Keel said he has received a price quote from a Belleville hardware store offering the three guns for the $490.

The motion to purchase the guns was made by Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell and seconded by Trustee Kenneth Gieson.

Auditor W. Lee Adams questioned whether purchasing guns was legal, since the grant had been offered for a police car, radios, uniforms and related goods for the police department.

Adams said even if the purchase is legal, he is opposed to using grant funds to purchase guns.

Auditor Norman Hessler said the grant was offered to the police to purchase what they needed, using their discretion in determining their needs.

Whitsell, Gieson and Hessler voted in favor of authorizing the purchase, with Adams and Eugene Gargac voting against.

Grand jury report is 'on file'

A Madison County grand jury which has just completed its term issued its final report to the Madison County Board during the board's regular meeting Wednesday morning in Edwardsville.

The grand jury report stated the various county institutions, facilities and buildings had been inspected and most were found to be in good order.

Exceptions noted were that the moisture problem in the basement recreation room at the Madison County Detention Home continues to exist, even though the problem has been cited by previous grand juries.

The installation of smoke detectors at the Shelter Care Home and of a directory on the first floor of the courthouse also are recommended.

Concerning the condition of the Madison County Jail, the grand jury noted, "We continue to urge the county to proceed with construction of a new jail which is urgently needed."

"The structure of the old jail should be inspected by an engineer for the purpose of determining how to shore-up certain walls to keep them from collapsing," the grand jury concluded.

Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer accepted the report, saying, "I just wish they would tell us where to come up with the money. We will see what we can do about the directory for the courthouse."

A motion to place the report "on file" was adopted unanimously.

To erect 2 warehouses in Venice

The GMI Corporation, a metal building erection company, is expanding its warehouse storage space with the erection of two new warehouse buildings in Venice.

The Venice City Council Tuesday night approved building permits for the two new buildings at 1226 Biassell St., Venice.

One building will have 18,000 square feet of storage space, costing $38,700, and the other is a 22,000 square-foot storage building costing $47,000.

In April 1976, the company erected a 34,000 square-foot building costing $75,000.

According to Larry Livingston, secretary-treasurer for GMI, "We picked Venice for several reasons, one, the land was available and secondly we believe the growing area of the future of the metropolitan area is on the east side of the river."

"Our business basically is a warehousing operation and we will lease part of the storage space in the building to anyone who has a need, and we will use the warehouse ourselves."

6-9 center scores 43, St. Henry wins

Venice High School's cagers traveled to Belleville Tuesday evening to take on the St. Henry Preparatory School basketball squad and were given a personal tour of the courts by Eagle Stan Elfrink, 6-9 senior center who poured 43 points through the net. The hosts won 76-66.

Elfrink, who earlier in the season tallied 48 points in one game, two weeks ago set a new school record for the most points scored in a contest when he put 56 points on the scoreboard against Valmeyer.

He also had 23 rebounds in that contest.

The Eagles led 21-6, 39-28 and 56-48 at the quarters and outscored the Red Devils 20-18 in the final period Tuesday.

Venice trailed St. Henry in goals by only 32-30, but 14-6 from the charity stripe. The Eagles committed the fewest fouls, 13-16.

Ricky Jones led Venice with 22 points. Reggie Mathis scored 18, Derrek Mathis 12, Frank Pace eight and Don Gardner, six.

Former Boston Brave with Babe Ruth, Tencoff veteran coach of local Braves

John Tencoff of Coolidge Junior High School, who has announced retirement plans effective at the end of the current school year, will lead the Braves' baseball team into action for a final season this spring.

Once a teammate of baseball immortal "Babe" Ruth, Tencoff believes that "winning always comes first," but he also stresses other values of the sport.

A man who has participated as a player and as a coach at more levels of various sports than almost anyone in memory, Tencoff will end a 22-year tenure at Coolidge that has brought many winning seasons for his athletes.

Coolidge at various times has been a two-year and three-year school. The ninth grade was transferred to local high schools most recently in the fall of 1973.

In football, Tencoff's ninth grade teams compiled a composite record of 103 wins, 12 losses and two ties, starting in 1966. His eighth grade grid teams have won 13 and lost five.

In a nine-year span, Tencoff-coached ninth grade basketball teams recorded 86 victories and 70 defeats.

His baseball teams have a combined record of 199-77. He began his Quad-City area career as a coach in 1955 at Granite City Community High School as an assistant coach in football, basketball and baseball.

"There really wasn't a major junior sports program in schools here at that time," he recalls. "So when Coolidge was built I started the first athletic program for the Braves."

Tencoff first became involved in sports as a student at Madison High School, where he served as a catcher for two years with the baseball team that played four years with the baseball squad.

As a senior catcher in 1930, he was a member of the Trojan basketball team that battled its way to sectional competition, where the Trojans were beaten by Olney. Olney went on to place third in the state tournament that year.

Enrolling at the University of Illinois to major in physical education and social studies, Tencoff concentrated on baseball.

A standout catcher in college, he blasted the only homer of the season for the squad as a sophomore in 1932. The home run enabled his team to beat Bradley University.

Tencoff's career on the diamond was launched before he had finished his schooling when the 1935 season was short-lived. He was out from the roster during spring training.

Picked up immediately by the Boston Braves of the National Baseball League, Tencoff again experienced disappointment when cut from the roster just as he was about to start. But there he had a chance to play with Ruth and other famed athletes.

"You have to understand how it was in baseball back then," explains Tencoff. "A major league team now will carry three or four catchers on its roster throughout the season, whereas back then two was the limit."

"I lost out because there always were a couple of other guys considered by the Braves to be better than me behind the plate."

Spring training with the Braves left many fond memories for Tencoff. "Herman 'Babe' Ruth was with the Braves then, and so was Wally Berger," he recalls. Ruth, whose baseball career included many years with the New York Yankees in the American League, joined the Braves following a dispute with the Yankees over his desires to become a manager.

"The 'Babe' already held the major league single-season home run record of 60."

"Ruth was on his way out as a player in 1935," Tencoff notes. "He failed to keep in shape, became winded easily and retired from the sport before the season was over."

Tencoff recalls that Berger was the "big gun" in 1935 with the Braves. "He led the National League in homers that season with 34."

Upon leaving the Braves, Tencoff settled in Florida and joined a semipro ballclub in Jacksonville, Fla., catching for the Sports in Sally League competition.

One day, during a scheduled doubleheader against Fort Worth, Tex., the Sports went through two starting pitchers in an attempt to win the first game of a twinbill.

Although a catcher, Tencoff was sent to the mound as a relief hurler with the bases loaded and four innings remaining.

He drew thunderous applause from more than 4,500 spectators when he cooled off the Fort Worth batters in the four frames.

Fifteen minutes later, he returned to the field and caught the second game for the Sports. Recalled later by the Giants, Tencoff served with the ball club's farm team in the International League in New Jersey until 1942, when he accepted a coaching position with Jackson High School in Florida.

His first year as a line football coach at Jackson got off to a good start as the team went through the season undefeated and unscathed upon until the last game, when it lost 7-0.

The Jackson gridgers won the state championship during Tencoff's tenure there, and he also served as head baseball coach, he twice led teams to the state tournament. He also coached basketball at Jackson.

Tencoff left Jackson in 1947 to coach the Hastings High School Spudsters for a year before taking on a seven-year tenure at Ketterling High School near St. Augustine, Fla.

During his stay at Ketterling, he served as head coach in baseball and basketball, and as an assistant football coach, as well as working as a physical education instructor.

For the first four years that he was with the football program there, the Yellow Jackets won the East Florida Conference championship each season.

Tencoff was recognized for putting Ketterling High on the baseball map when he led one team to the state Class A championship and other teams repeatedly to the state tournament.

In his last year with the Florida school, 1964, he was instrumental in helping the Yellow Jackets gain their sixth East Florida Conference football title, a season in which the squad went undefeated with an 11-0 record.

A former gridiron star who played under Tencoff later authored a book about the school's football program. When it was published, inside the front cover was a dedication:

"It is the least that I can do to dedicate this book to a man whose quiet, encouraging words carried farther than the gridiron and farther than the basketball court."

"This man's manner gave me a yearning to live up to his expectations for me on the gridiron and on the basketball court."

"I don't know what he means to you, but he was my coach, John Tencoff."

"The athletic scene has changed drastically," Tencoff believes. "In the old days, an athlete would do anything for his coach. Now, it's tough being a coach because there are so many other factors to contend with that weren't there in the past."

He feels that being an athlete today means hard work and self-discipline.

"If an athlete doesn't discipline himself now, life later will do it for him the hard way," he philosophizes.

Tencoff says football perhaps represents life more than any other sport.

"You get pushed around, knocked down and at times have your nose ground into the dirt."

"The athlete with ability to bounce back and try again is the young man who will succeed later in life."

Reason No. 2 why H&R Block should do your taxes.

Block didn't become America's largest income tax preparer by charging high prices. For example, if you qualify for the short form, we charge a very low price. Even if your return is more complicated, Block's fee is still very reasonable.

Rugged competition certain in sectional wrestling tourney here

Ninety-six matmen representing 28 high schools will take to local mats this weekend, starting at 7 p.m. tomorrow, to compete in the Illinois High School Association Class AA 177 wrestling sectional meet hosted by GCHS South in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium.

The grapplers represent four different districts, from which wrestlers claimed championship and runner-up finishes last weekend to earn the right to advance to the South sectional.

Following opening-round action here Friday, competition will resume Saturday at 1 p.m., and then will conclude with final bouts Saturday evening starting at seven o'clock.

Weight class champions and runner-up here will compete in the state wrestling tournament Feb. 25-26 at the Assembly Hall of the University of Illinois in Champaign.

In addition, the top two finishers in each weight class in the Chicago Public League qualifying tournament will advance to the Class AA state final.

Quincy and Cahokia have the most matmen entered in the sectional competition, each with eight.

Carbondale, Belleville West, GCHS North and GCHS South each advanced seven, and Centralia and Roselle five each.

Competing here also will be matmen from Springfield, Lamphier, East St. Louis, Lincoln, Jacksonville, Springfield Southeast, Hillsboro, Springfield High, Herrin, Murphysboro, Mount Carmel, West Frankfort, Harrisburg, Belleville East, East St. Louis High, Macouhatch, Belleville Althoff, Edwardsville, Wood River, Collinsville and Alton.

Since the inaugural sectional tournament in this area in 1939, Granite City teams have captured 28 team championships. The Warriors of Granite City edged East St. Louis 96-26 to win the 1939 sectional meet, and then topped Belleville and East St. Louis in the next two tournaments.

The local squad was runner-up in both 1942 and 1943 to East St. Louis, and fourth in 1944.

Granite City won again in 1945, and Champaign posted back-to-back team titles in 1946 and 1947, with Granite City the runner-up in the latter year.

The Warriors put together five straight sectional championships in 1949-53 and placed second in 1953 to Wood River, followed by 17 consecutive sectional titles for Granite City spanning 1964 to 1970.

The year 1971 saw Springfield Southeast edge Granite City for top honors, 50-47, and the Warriors won the following two tournaments.

GCHS South claimed team second in 1972, followed by Belleville East and Springfield Southeast tied for second place. Newly-created GCHS North, under Coach Walt Whitaker, finished sixth.

South's Warriors were edged out of the sectional title in 1975 by Belleville East, 73-71, and then placed sixth last year when East successfully defended its title. North's Steelers were eighth in the tourney in 1975 and third last year.

Heading into battle tomorrow for Coach William "Bill" Schmitt's South Warriors (with won-lost records given) are: 105 pounds — Wally DeShon (25-6) district champion; 112 — Barry Forbush (18-7) district runner-up; 132 — Dave Gaines (23-8) district champion; 138 — Darrell Hasty (24-3) district champion; 145 — James Carmody (31-0) district champion; 155 — Kevin Wilson (27-3) district champion; and heavyweight — Mark Naglich (30-1) district runner-up.

Sectional entrants from North's Steelers will be 98 — Kris Whelan (30-0) district champion; 112 — Keith Whelan (15-2) district champion; 135 — Matt McCullough (29-2) district champion; 145 — Ray Stuart (20-1) district runner-up; 150 — Steve Hartline (18-7) district runner-up; 167 — James Shermwell (21-8-1) district champion.

Coach Schmitt believes this weekend's meet could be the most competitive in recent years, with several returning wrestlers having placed well in last year's tournament, including four sectional champions and one state titleholder.

Four of the top two-day tournaments will be available at the gymnasium door prior to the start of each session at a cost of $1.50 per adult and $1 each for students with identification cards.

187 — Widel (GCHN) vs. Dave King (Lamphier); 185 — Wilson (GCHS) vs. Gail Orebrough (Quincy); and heavyweight — Shermwell (GCHN) vs. Randy Whelan (GCHN) vs. Norm Dahm (GCHN) vs. Bill Terry (Mushboro) and Carmody (GCHN) vs. Jeff Arnold (West); 155 — Hartline (GCHN) vs. Brett Drome (Carbondale).

187 — Widel (GCHN) vs. Dave King (Lamphier); 185 — Wilson (GCHS) vs. Gail Orebrough (Quincy); and heavyweight — Shermwell (GCHN) vs. Randy Whelan (GCHN) vs. Norm Dahm (GCHN) vs. Bill Terry (Mushboro) and Carmody (GCHN) vs. Jeff Arnold (West); 155 — Hartline (GCHN) vs. Brett Drome (Carbondale).

Trojans score 97 in 20th win

Madison High School's basketball team improved its 1976-77 season record to 20-9 against three losses in a game across the wide Mississippi Tuesday night, defeating host Northwest High of Missouri 97-62.

It marked the third time this season the Trojans have scored more than 90 points in winning. Madison won 92-47 over St. Paul of Highland on Jan. 7 and 96-67 over St. Louis McKinley on Feb. 8.

Coach Larry Graham's squad led Northwest's Blue Jackets 24-16, 40-26 and 64-41 at the quarters, and outscored the host team 33-21 in the final quarter, aided by 15 charity tosses.

Northwest closed to within 10 points (42-32) with 6:24 left in the third quarter, but three baskets by Ron Williams and one each by Rodney Davis and Randall Jones opened up a 20-point margin within two minutes for Madison. Williams tallied 10 of his game total of 15 points in that period.

Madison's cagers made 12 field goals in 19 attempts in the third period, and Northwest seven of 14.

Nine different players provided points for Madison in the final quarter as the Trojans hit on nine of 24 from the field and added the 15 free throws. Northwest meshed seven of 13 goal attempts in the fourth period.

Overall, Madison hit 40 field

Cherry Sharp top rebounder for Cougars

For the second time in less than a week, SIUE women cagers were defeated by the St. Louis University Billikens. The Cougars lost 59-45 Monday night in St. Louis.

The St. Louis U. fastbreak proved to be SIUE's undoing. The Cougars also were in early foul trouble.

Sharpshooter Daisy Rice fouled out of the game with just two minutes left in the second half, after tallying only one point in the game. Following her to the bench was Julie O'Laughlin, who fouled out with five minutes left in the game. The latter also had a cold night, making only one point, and with just a minute left, SIUE's Carol Dapper fouled out with a game total of two points.

Two Cougar women gave impressive showings despite the loss. Junior Sharon Frey held her hand and tallied 17 points. She also pulled down two defensive rebounds and intercepted a Billiken pass.

Cherry Sharp, a senior from Granite City, had nine points and controlled the rebounding for the Cougars. She snared five defensive and three offensive rebounds and also managed to steal a total of four St. Louis U. passes.

Sophomore Kathy Going tallied 12 points and Center Jo Ann Wiestroer scored six points in the second half.

The Cougar cagers will now return to home territory and meet the Leathernecks of Western Illinois University Friday at 8 p.m. in the Edwardsville High School girls' gym. One of the Cougars' eight losses this season came at the hands of Western; SIUE was edged out 49-48 in Macomb.

Steelers cage Panthers 76-61

Eleven first-half fouls committed by GCHS North's Steelers Tuesday night enabled O'Fallon's Panthers to stay in contention, but Coach William "Bill" Ohlendorf's squad prevailed on free goals, sharpshooting to win 76-61 in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium.

North High, now with an 8-13 record, led 22-10, 38-27 and 58-41 at the quarters. O'Fallon scored 20 points to North's 18 in the second half but never mustered a serious threat.

From the floor, North made 33 goals of 68 attempts. The Steelers trailed the Panthers at the foul line, 15-10. O'Fallon was 23 of 54 from the floor.

North committed 22 fouls and the visitors 12.

O'Fallon committed the most turnovers, 19-15. North held a rebounding edge, 25-21.

The Steelers meshed 10 goals

Ice Bruins to bid for season title tomorrow

A little word spelled "if" will play an important role this weekend in determining whether Coach Gary Mainier's Granite City Ice Bruins will win the Madison-St. Clair Counties Junior Ice Hockey League double-elimination tournament here as the league's top team.

Bruins enter their last 1976-77 regular season contest against Collinsville at 10:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Wilson Park ice rink nipping at the heels of current league lead O'Fallon. O'Fallon has a 12-2 record and defending champion and Granite City is 11-2-1.

The Bruins would take sole possession of first place if Granite City wins tomorrow, and if former two-time league champion Alton can defeat O'Fallon in a 10 p.m. clash here Saturday.

Scattered opposition in City, village elections

Opposition to Madison Mayor, Mike Sasyk in his bid for re-election and a two-way race for the one aldermanic seat in Ward Three at Venice developed Monday afternoon in last-minute filings of nominating petitions in the April 19 city and village elections.

The filing period ended at Madison at 4:30 p.m. shortly after Patricia "Patty" Moss, 1636 Sixth St., filed nominating petitions as a candidate for mayor to oppose Sasyk. Miss Moss was the only candidate to file in Madison Monday.

The only additional filing at Venice where the filing period also ended at 4:30 p.m. was that of Helen Ruth King, 1101 Market St., who filed petitions as a candidate for the aldermanic post in Ward Three. She will oppose incumbent Alderman

John Ervin who is seeking re-election on a party ticket that otherwise has no opposition.

At Pontoon Beach, however, the filing period closed at 4 p.m. with no additional filings, leaving a ticket of three incumbent trustees without opposition. The incumbents, Paul Bennett, Raymond Gaidette Jr. and Donald C. Rea filed as the Community Improvement Party.

Without opposition, the three incumbents will be re-elected by default.

In Venice one ticket of candidates, headed by incumbent Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt, filed nominating petitions. Others on the ticket are Lloyd Patterson, incumbent city clerk; William E. Griggs, candidate for treasurer; E. Harry Buerste, First Ward alderman; Hank Sweta, Second Ward; John Ervin, Third Ward; and Tyrone Echols, Fourth Ward.

All of the Venice candidates are incumbents except Griggs. He is running for the treasurer's post being vacated by Treasurer Henry Bascum who has announced his retirement from public office. All have filed as candidates on The City Improvement Party ticket.

The filing of petitions by Helen Ruth King for the aldermanic post in Ward Three will result in only that contest in the Venice election.

One full Madison slate has filed as the Better Government Party, headed by Sasyk and includes John Belloff for re-election as city clerk; Hilbert Hoekstra, treasurer; R. Don Reeves, First Ward alderman; Frank Dutko, Second Ward; Thomas Gordon, Third Ward; Christ Costoff, Fourth Ward; and Booker Walton, Fifth Ward.

All are incumbents except Dutko and Gordon. The ticket has the endorsement of the Madison City Organization. Dutko, now chief of police of Madison, is seeking the aldermanic seat vacated this year by Richard Kiser who is moving out of the city, while Gordon is running for the aldermanic post that will be vacated by Ray Kosielek, who is not seeking re-election.

Two others have filed as independent candidates for the Second Ward aldermanic post. They are Michael Bero and Stanley Gasho.

In the Third Ward, C. S. "Casey" Krakowiecki has filed as an independent candidate opposing Gordon, but Krakowiecki has announced that he intends to withdraw his candidacy. A withdrawal period will continue through Saturday.

Jim Riskovsky also has filed in Madison as an independent candidate for the city treasurer's post, opposing Hoekstra.

On this basis, Madison will have contests for the mayor's office, the city treasurer post, and for the one aldermanic seat in Ward Two.

Driver license crackdown

Illinois state troopers this week began spot-checking motorists for valid driver licenses in a statewide crackdown on driver license scofflaws.

A random spot-check program designed to detect drivers unqualified to operate motor vehicles on public highways has been approved by Lynn E. Baird, new superintendent of the state police.

The state police cite the large number of unlicensed drivers as the primary reason for the new statewide enforcement effort. Illinois secretary of state's office records indicate there currently are over 6,700,000 drivers licensed in Illinois.

In 1976, the office suspended and revoked driving privileges of more than 116,000 persons who either violated traffic laws or otherwise failed to comply with standards required to hold licenses. Thousands more failed to renew an expired driver license.

"Our enforcement experience has shown us that many drivers continue to operate vehicles after their licenses have been suspended or revoked," Baird said.

"The stationary driver license checks — operated randomly throughout the state — will serve as a useful enforcement tool for apprehending unqualified drivers."

"This program should have a deterrent effect on those who are unqualified but continue to drive."

"Since the checks are to be made on a random basis, motorists will not know when or where they may be stopped and asked to produce a valid license."

Baton contest winners named

Georgette Tankley and Lori McNeilly both won first place trophies in a baton contest held in Edwardsville, during the weekend, sponsored by the Shalord Vount School of Baton.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tankley, 1146 Rhodes St., Georgette captured first place honors in the dance twirl, advanced basic and advanced military. She also received a fourth place award in beginning fancy and instate and a fifth in the Miss Sweetheart Pageant.

Lori is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drennan, Rural Route Two, Granite City. She won first place trophies in instate solo and hoop; a third in military strut and fifth in both overall solo and flag solo.

Council turns down restaurant zoning

A plea that the Granite City Council reverse a recommendation of the City Plan Commission and grant rezoning that would permit construction of an Arthur Treacher's Fish and Chips Restaurant at 3516 Nameoki Road was turned down by the aldermen Tuesday night.

The plan commission rejected the rezoning request in a meeting Feb. 10 after a large delegation of neighborhood residents objected to the proposal on grounds that there already are 25 restaurants in the Nameoki area and that another one would increase traffic congestion, cause a sewer factor and would tax sewer facilities.

Mrs. JoAnn Vaughn, 1526 Cottage Ave., who represented neighborhood residents at the plan commission meeting also spoke at the council session. She said that residents of the area want to keep the area residential. The site of the proposed restaurant is across the street from the Nameoki Shopping Center.

William Brandt, Granite City Attorney, addressed the council briefly, noting that his arguments in that case were the same as those presented by him previously in another issue involving rezoning for a Taco Bell Restaurant. That plea also was rejected.

Brandt said the benefits to be derived from the city by additional business operations justifies rezoning of the area.

"I can remember when Nameoki was just a sleepy little village, but there have been many changes," Brandt said.

"The area has become the heart of Granite City. It should have been zoned commercial a long time ago."

Acting on a motion by Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald Coleman, chairman of the planning and zoning committee, the council voted unanimously to concur in the plan commission recommendation to reject the rezoning request.

In a related action, Coleman told the council that a new zoning ordinance is being prepared to resolve many questions that have arisen in the past several years.

Coleman's information was in response to a suggestion by Fourth Ward Alderman Glen Sprinkle that revisions in the zoning ordinance are necessary because of problems encountered by the plan commission under the original ordinance.

Couple vacations in Rio de Janeiro

Mr. and Mrs. William Orlovich, 1822 Market St., Madison, returned home this week following a week's vacation in Rio de Janeiro, where they visited many points of interest and shopped in the downtown stores.

While vacationing, the group visited the statue of Christ the Redeemer which stands on top of Corcovado mountain, and rises 2,372 feet above the city. The 100-foot statue is made of concrete, and is the work of Paul Landowski and looks like a giant white cross when it is floodlighted at night, the local residents added.

According to the Orlovichs they enjoyed tours of the city, beaches and especially a jewelry factory and forest area outside the city limits.

Need fiscal integrity, responsible budgeting—Thompson

Governor James R. Thompson said Monday that over-spending of the state's general funds must end if the state is to avoid a general tax increase.

The governor said deficit spending of the state's general funds during the last three fiscal years will draw the state's bank account down to $50 million, estimated, at the end of fiscal year 1977 (June 30).

"We cannot continue to spend more money than we are taking in if we are to remain fiscally sound," Gov. Thompson said.

"We must reverse the spending habits of the last three years and balance our budget."

In the first of a series of "state of the economy" ad-resses, Thompson told members and guests of the Champaign Rotary Club that he is asking all areas of state government to "restore fiscal integrity and responsibility to the budgeting process."

Referring to a series of charts, the governor said the balance in the "state's check-book" slipped from $453 million in 1974 to $115 million in 1975 and to $125 million in 1976.

"We estimate we will close fiscal 1977 with about $50 million left in the state's bank account — enough to cover state spending for two days," Thompson said.

"In order to reverse the spending trend that has placed us near the bottom of our account, we must spend less money than is taken in for at least one year," the governor said.

The governor said he will ask the Illinois General Assembly to hold new spending in fiscal year 1978 to about $500 million so that the state's budget will be balanced.

Gov. Thompson said his $500 million ceiling on new spending is less than half the amount of new funds spent during each of fiscal years 1975 and 1976.

During those years, new spending increased $615 million and $605 million, respectively, he added.

He also said that the state closed fiscal 1975 with a deficit of $138 million and fiscal 1976 with a deficit of $189 million.

At the end of the present fiscal year, 1977, the state may show a deficit of $78 million because of spending plans already in place when he took office, Gov. Thompson said.

In order to make up for the deficits of past years, the state must spend no more than $300 million during July 1977-June 1978, even though estimated new revenues would be approximately $410 million, it was asserted.

The governor said he already has taken the following steps in an attempt to improve the state's financial picture:

1. Placed a freeze on hiring on state employees under his control.

2. Ordered the continuation of a freeze on purchasing new equipment.

3. Ordered a review of all capital projects with the objective of slowing the growth in state bond sales and state spending from general funds for new debt service.

4. Released new spending ceilings for fiscal 1978 for both the State Board of Education and the Board of Higher Education one month before the amounts are traditionally released, in order to give local school district and university boards time to "plan their own budgets based on realistic expectations of available state aid."

Gov. Thompson said he is pleased by the fast action of the State Board of Education in asking school districts to begin establishing their needs for the coming year on a priority basis.

"It's cooperation like that, that will put the state back on the right fiscal track," he said.

The governor said he also is satisfied with the action of the Board of Higher Education, which has indicated that it will strive to evaluate and prioritize university programs under its jurisdiction.

Thompson said that if the state adheres to a sensible and balanced spending program for 1977-78, it will be possible to July 1978-June 1979 to fully fund the present school aid formula.

He said he will be incorporating the $300 million ceiling in new spending when he formally presents his 1977-78 budget to the General Assembly March 2.

Other "state of the economy" addresses are scheduled for Carbondale Feb. 23, and both Chicago and Bloomington Feb. 25.

Rutledge will back Coleman

Paul Rutledge, Granite City treasurer and a veteran city official of 29 years service, said in a statement this week that he will lend his support to the election of Ronald Coleman, incumbent alderman of Ward Seven, as city treasurer in the April 5 city election.

Rutledge, who has announced he will not seek re-election because of health reasons, said he considers Coleman as highly qualified to handle the city treasurer's post.

The official said: "Because of Mr. Coleman's background, I have decided that I shall give him all the support I can in his campaign for the office of city treasurer."

"Mr. Coleman has a college degree, he is a school teacher and has been an alderman for the past four years. He has been chairman of the City Council's finance committee for the past two years and is well acquainted with the city's financial procedures, budget requirements and sources of revenue."

"I am convinced that Mr. Coleman will make an efficient city treasurer and, for that reason, I intend to support him as my choice of candidates."

New precincts

comply with the law. "At the worst," he stated, "the courts could nullify the results of an election, but that is not considered likely."

Miss Bowles warned the County Board members against creating too many precincts, thus compounding the number of voting machines, election judges and polling places needed for each election.

She said there are just as many precincts which are too small as there are precincts too large, so careful combining of some precincts, while splitting others, is likely to yield "about the same number of precincts we now have."

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer of Granite City noted the county has until June to determine what precinct changes should be made and said it is the responsibility of each County Board member to attempt to rearrange precincts in his board district to meet the law.

All precincts must remain within the County Board district boundaries, he noted, since County Board districts may not be changed legally until 1980.

Partney said he would meet with Granite City Clerk Robert

W. Stevens to attempt to work out matching city and county precincts within his County Board district.

Stevens, however, told the Press-Record later that the task of reorganizing the precincts and attempting to match them with the county's precincts has been a task assigned to the intergovernmental committee of the Granite City Council for years.

He said all inquiries from County Board members will be referred to that committee, which is comprised of William Dallas, chairman, and Glen Sprankle and Sam Whitmer.

The County Board also discussed the possibility of drafting a resolution requesting state legislators from this area to try and have the legal size of precincts increased to 1,000 or 1,200 registered voters each, but there were warnings from Miss Bowles that larger precincts would require three or four voting machines and few polling places are large enough to accommodate four voting machines.

Each machine can only record 400 voters per election, it was explained. Longer waiting to vote and problems on township and other elections requiring paper ballots also were discussed.

The question of whether the county should urge the state to allow larger precincts was referred to the board's legislative committee to study and make a recommendation.

Ambulances

Record that he has received verbal notice that the city's request for a $56,000 grant through the Illinois Department of Public Health to be used in purchasing four ambulances has been approved. The mayor said he expects written verification of the grant approval within a few days.

As a result of the reports by Schuler and Parente, council members voted unanimously in favor of a motion of Alderman Earl Baker, chairman of the council's fire and water committee, to employ three additional firemen.

Baker said the three firemen would permit the assignment of one additional man to each of the three shifts now operating the rescue truck out of the main fire station. This will provide three men per shift to handle the rescue unit and one of the ambulances operating out of the No. 1 fire station.

The other 17 men will be assigned to three shifts each in operation of the other two ambulances, Parente said.

Schuler explained that seven of the men obtained through the manpower program will be paid out of the regular Title II phase of CETA, which is a program renewed by the federal government from year to year. The other 10, however, are being provided under Title VI, a new phase of the manpower program which will guarantee salary payments for one year, Schuler explained.

Half of the cost of training the 17 new employees who will be assigned to ambulance operation also will be assumed by the manpower program along with a payment of $2.50 per hour for each man during the training period.

According to Parente, arrangements are being made to start the training immediately, possibly on Monday. The training will be provided at St. Elizabeth Hospital by Belleville Area College instructors. The council, at the mayor's suggestion, approved a motion Tuesday night to authorize funds necessary to pay the remaining half of the training costs.

A total of 81 hours training is required for each man. Parente said he expects training sessions to be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week, a program that will complete the required training by the deadline date of March 15 for beginning the city-operated ambulance service.

The city's decision to go into the ambulance business was reached following an announcement last month by Thomas Ambulance Service that it will discontinue its service, except operation of one emergency unit, on March 15. Schuler said after the meeting that bids for purchase of four ambulances will be called as soon as he receives official notice that the $56,000 grant has been approved.

The grant will provide 70 per cent of the cost of buying four units — estimated to cost $80,000. The city will provide the remaining 30 per cent of the cost, or $24,000.

Parente said that the city will operate three of the ambulances, retaining the fourth as a backup unit to be used in the event of a major emergency, or for replacement of any of the other three units if need be.

Aid cut

$55,000, plus a projected $82,000 payout July 1 for obligations incurred during this year.

3. "Tax anticipation warrants will have to be issued. The first warrants will probably be issued in May. The amounts of the warrants at this time cannot be projected due to possible variances in the revenue and expense projections.

"Up to this point, I have reviewed only the cash flow for the balance of the year.

"The outlook on the accrual basis as well as cash flow for next year presents a more solemn picture. For instance, as of the end of the year, we will have encumbered for approximately $1,680,000 for teacher salaries for July and August.

"We will have projected accounts payable totaling $190,000. Another $161,000 will be necessary for Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund obligations and a cost of living payout to non-certified personnel. This amounts to a total of $2,031,000.

"In addition, our 12-month employees' pay for the periods of July and August will be $931,000. These obligations will have to be met by issuance of tax warrants in all probability.

"These are the projected facts as I see them based on present information. Of course, the financial projections will not be updated as more pertinent information becomes available.

"If there are no major revisions in the projected revenues and expenditures between now and June, it appears that our cash position and our accrual financial position will be close to that projected at the beginning of the year.

"In addition, if the state would meet its obligations relative to funding the state aid formula, we would not be in a position of having to borrow money this year, and our accrual financial position would be a much brighter picture."

The district's Feb. 1 cash balance was $758,618. Cash flow patterns could increase this to $1,306,654 by March 31 but cut it to $24,482 April 30, a $606 deficit May 31 and a $350,150 deficit June 30.

Two charged

Venice police Monday charged Bart Bell, 18, of 903 Bissell St., Venice, with resisting arrest and possession of cannabis, and Charles Lucas, 21, of 901 Bissell St., with aggravated assault and obstructing a police officer after they were arrested during the weekend in the 200 block of Weaver St., Venice.

Each was released on a $2,000 recognizance bond by Associate Judge A.A. Matosian Monday. Officers alleged observing one youth pass a plastic bag containing marijuana to another youth and when they attempted to arrest the two, Lucas allegedly swung a fist at an officer.

Filles injury suit

Robert Edward Geschel has filed a four-count suit, seeking $75,000 in each count, in Madison County Circuit Court, naming M. H. Wolfe Co., and Granite City Steel Co., a division of National Steel Corp., as defendants.

Geschel alleges that on June 16, 1976, while he was working at the steel firm as a millwright-carpenier, he was injured while attempting to move steel pilings. Negligence was charged.

Venice supports MEG funding

The Venice City Council Tuesday night approved a resolution in support of continuing the Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG), and urging state legislators to assist in funding the program.

The local MEG unit began operation in May 1975 and has been funded mainly by the federal government. The federal funding ends in June.

The resolution calls for the legislators to support House Bill 36, providing for state cost-sharing of expenses with local governments for continued operations of MEG, and House Bill 37 providing an appropriation for the unit.

"I personally feel the local MEG unit is doing a good job and has been a real benefit to us in Venice," Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley said.

"MEG is doing a good job and I would like to urge the council to support it."

The resolution passed by unanimous vote.

MEG deals primarily in combating illicit drug trafficking on the streets. The local MEG unit operates in the counties of Madison, St. Clair, Randolph, Monroe, Bond, Washington and Jersey.

The operation has a conviction rate of 91 per cent.

In other action, the council approved: purchase of a public address system for the primary use of senior citizens; $100 for craft supplies and bus transportation to the Plantation Dinner Theater, also for the senior citizens.

The council discussed entering into an agreement with the county to obtain a van for use by senior citizens. The city clerk was instructed by Venice Mayor William Ebersoldt to invite Mrs. Mary Kane of the Madison County Community Development program to the next council meeting to discuss the various aspects and cost of the program.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Mayor Ebersoldt said, "I have a letter from Wesley Edwards addressed to the mayor and City Council expressing his appreciation to us for the many fine years he lived in Venice. In case some in the audience are not acquainted with Mr. Edwards, he served the city in different capacities since 1957 and was our building inspector until he recently moved. I have nothing but the highest of praise for Wes and the good citizen and public servant he was," Ebersoldt said.

Bubblemasters' Ball Saturday

The Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club of Granite City will sponsor its seventh annual "Bubblemasters' Ball" at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Croatian Home, 10th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

The public is invited to attend and may obtain tickets in advance by calling Mrs. Sharon Earmey, general chairman, at 877-5966, or Phil Lamm, club president, at 876-1575, after 5 p.m.

Tickets cost $9 each and include a buffet supper, free beer, setup and snacks. Many gifts will be distributed throughout the evening among those attending, Lamm said.

Music for dancing will be furnished by Blue Sunshine of St. Louis.

Proceeds from the dance help to finance several operations of the club, including the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT), a volunteer group of qualified divers who work closely with state, county and local law enforcement agencies.

Team members provide emergency services without pay to the public, Lamm explained.

The BURT divers have recovered weapons and stolen vehicles from the Mississippi River, Chain of Rocks Canal and other expanses of water, and search underwater for persons who are believed to have drowned.

BURT divers also are an integral part of the Granite City Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (Civil Defense).

Team members furnish their own equipment to perform these services and often take time from their jobs to aid the public in emergency situations, Lamm explained.

Donations received from Saturday's dance will help to defray the cost of operating the BURT squad in 1977, the club president advised.

Representatives from several scuba diving clubs in the bi-state metropolitan region are expected to attend the affair, Lamm said.

Arrangements for the annual ball are being handled by Ken and Diane Simon, Nancy Viessman, Fred Finazzo, Max and Cathy Legate, Dale Orr and Carol Craig, under the leadership of Mrs. Earmey.

Launch drive for voter registration

The United Progress Party of Nameoki Township has initiated a drive to register voters for the April township election.

Harold Davis, candidate for supervisor on that ticket, has announced that township residents have until March 8 to register.

"Increased participation in township government is what we are hoping for. The best way to do this is by having as many people registered and voting as possible," Davis said.

Persons needing to register or knowing of a township resident needing to be registered is urged to contact Davis or Eileen Miller, 2309 Paul Drive, telephone 797-0531, the candidate said.

Mrs. Wright dies at 73

She was employed six years at Missouri Baptist Hospital, St. Louis, prior to her retirement. Born in Morton Gap, Ky., Mrs. Wright resided here 45 years.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

7 tires slashed on five cars

Witnesses saw a man crouched down by a car with a flat tire and said the man walked into the tavern. Police checked and said they found the tavern locked and could not receive an answer at the door. The witnesses said the man was tall and wore a brown coat and a brown hat with a bill.

Victims of slashed tires were: Linda McClannahan, 1634 Fourth St., Madison, one tire; Kim Plantz, 29 Briarcliff Drive, one tire; William Sommerich, St. Louis, two tires; David Dombek, 3448 Lydia Lane, two tires, and Steve Lorenz, St. Louis, one tire.

Woman threatened; man is arrested

Andrew W. Wilby, 31, of 1424 Third St., Madison, was charged with disorderly conduct after he allegedly went to the home of Sharon Bradford, 4701 Kirkpatrick Homes, at 8:25 p.m. Sunday, threatened her with a shotgun and then took a television set and a clock from her apartment after she ran to a neighbor's home to call police.

She gave police a description of his car and four officers stopped the car minutes later at 24th Street and Washington Avenue, finding a shotgun, a television set and a clock in the car.

They alleged he refused to get out of the car or to cooperate with police and force had to be used to get him out and into a squad car.

N&W Railroad named in suit

William L. Bowlin has filed a two-count suit, seeking $15,000 in each count, in Madison County Circuit Court against Norfolk and Western Railway Co.

Bowlin alleges that on July 2, 1974, while employed as a train engineer with the railroad, he was injured upon slipping on oil and grease while attempting to disembark from a train engine. Negligence was charged.

DARRYL TOUSSAINT

Cadet honored at academy

Cadet Darryl Toussaint of Granite City was among high school recruits who have been honored for completing their recruit training period at Missouri Military Academy, Mexico, Mo.

Those honored were presented white stars for their right sleeves, emblematic of their acceptance as members of the Missouri Military Academy honor ROTC unit.

The recruits were placed in the honor group for their scholastic, military, disciplinary and athletic achievements and for their knowledge of academy traditions and regulations.

Missouri Military Academy is a college preparatory school for boys in fourth through 12th grades. The academy's ROTC unit has received an honor rating from the Department of the Army for 48 consecutive years. In addition, the academy has been designated as a honor unit with distinction by the Department of the Army.

Cadet Toussaint is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold E. Toussaint, 117 Riviera Drive.

Easter Seal drive opens

The 1977 Easter Seal appeal opened officially this week in Southwestern Illinois with the mailing of over 80,000 seals and appeal letters. It was announced by Max Roby, chairman of the campaign.

Roby urged Quad-Cityans to respond generously to the appeal and added that anyone missed in the mailing may receive seals by calling the society at 462-8897.

"The multiple services provided to disabled children and adults through Easter Seal are increasingly in demand," Roby said. The Easter Seal Society has always tried to respond generously to the needs of disabled people and their families," he added, "and this is evidenced by the new programs it has pioneered in previous years." The society cooperates with other agencies and organizations serving the handicapped in a continuing effort to further community resources.

Last year the society served over 400 individuals, children and adults, through a variety of services: speech therapy, summer day camping, a Post Stroke Club; purchase of orthopedic equipment; use of a caseworker, an active equipment loan pool at no cost to the individual, and casework counseling services.

Through its affiliation with the Illinois and National Easter Seal Societies, it shares in state and nationwide programs of direct services, education and research. The society has served the Southwestern Illinois area since 1950. The Easter Seal appeal has been its principal fund-raising program accounting for 80 per cent of its operating budget, Roby noted.

Former imprisoned missionary to speak

The Rev. Armand M. Doll, Nazarene missionary to Mozambique who was imprisoned by the Mozambique government without charges for 13 months, will speak at 10:30 a.m. services Sunday at the First Church of the Nazarene, 4701 Highway 111.

The public is invited to hear the minister describe the experiences concerned with his arrest and imprisonment, and the current status of the missionary field in Mozambique on Sunday morning, the Rev. William Roddy, pastor of the local church, said today.

The imprisonment of the Rev. Doll on Aug. 28, 1975, together with the Rev. Hugh Friberg, another Nazarene missionary, was a matter of much prayer and concern for the Church of the Nazarene worldwide.

Church officials, with Dr. Gerald Johnson, executive director of the Department of World Mission, in particular, made every effort possible to gain the release of the two men. It was also given high priority by the U.S. State Department.

Both missionaries are convinced that the prayers of the church and the faithfulness of God were key elements in their regained freedom, the Rev. Roddy said.

The Rev. Friberg was released by the Mozambique government on April 19, 1976, but the Rev. Doll was not freed until five months later on Sept. 18, 1976. No charges were ever filed.

The Rev. and Mrs. Doll were reunited in mid-September in Pennsylvania, where Mrs. Doll had remained during her husband's imprisonment.

Mozambique stretches for 1,200 miles along the Southeastern coast of Africa. It was the scene of much unrest and terrorist activity during a 10-year war against Portuguese colonial domination.

REV. ARMAND M. DOLL
Former Prisoner

Mozambique became independent of Portugal on June 5, 1975, and the government was taken over by the Frelimo (Front for the Liberation of Mozambique) which had earlier gained complete control of the independence movement in September 1974.

All private schools were closed, rural collective farms were called for and Mozambique's economic problems were further complicated with the emigration of most of the country's 160,000 whites.

It was during this period the arrest of the Rev. Doll occurred.

The Rev. and Mrs. Doll began their assignment to Mozambique in 1951. They spent the first 16 months in language study in Portugal before traveling to Africa.

In Mozambique, the couple had administrative responsibilities, as well as a teaching and pastoral ministry.

"Everyone is invited to come and hear the missionary program Sunday morning," the Rev. Roddy said.

Thorngate installs

A Valentine decor provided the setting for the installation of new officers of Thorngate Garden Club held at Charlie's Restaurant, last week.

The 1977-78 corps of officers includes Mrs. Helen Polx, president; Mrs. June Lux, vice-president; Mrs. Wanda Kincaid, secretary and Mrs. Lillian Delpe, treasurer.

The event also marked the 20th anniversary of the club and each member received a memento of the day.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lavelle, Mrs. Lillian Delpe and Mrs. Clara Schilling were accorded special honors as charter members of the club.

Mrs. Schilling, the retiring president, presented each member with a book of poems in appreciation of their assistance during the year.

Others attending were Miss Jean Bethel, Miss June Markham and Mesdames Wanda Herman, Betty King, Beula Miller, Pearl Young, Enid Bolin, Patricia Polley and Frances Polley.

Mrs. Kincaid invited the group to meet in her home for the March meeting.

People—not computers—check most federal income tax data

Ever wonder what happens when your tax return arrives at an IRS Service Center for processing?

It may come as a surprise to some people that much of the Service Center operation is performed by people — individuals who unload the bulging mail sacks, operate the machines that open the envelopes, then sort, batch, number, examine, correct and make computer tapes on each return, and certify returns for refunds.

Service Center machinery is modern, automated, and organized to perform the processing function in the least amount of time. There's nothing magical, mystical, or secret about the process. Common sense dictates that an error-free return will move along the processing pipeline faster in February when things are not as busy.

Deeper into the months of March and April, however, as the pipeline fills and backs up, the span of time for completing the process stretches to eight weeks, or more.

Here's what takes place. First off, no return is going to get very far without a social security number. That's why the IRS urges you to use the peel-off label that comes with your tax package. It contains the social security number, as well as the taxpayer's name and address.

And, remember, if a preparer does your return, give it to him or her to use, and remind him or her to sign the return and enter the social security or employer identification number in the space provided for preparers. After the returns are removed from the envelopes — and wise taxpayers use the coded, pre-addressed one found in their tax package — sorted, batched, and numbered, they move along the processing pipeline to be examined. It is at this point where errors begin to surface that will stall the processing of the return.

Examiners — people, not computers — check for proper placement of amounts or for obviously unallowable errors such as deducting for utility taxes or personal living expenses. They check, for instance, that the taxpayer has properly claimed the General Tax Credit. They match entries and information on the return with the attached documents and check for additional forms and schedules required in special tax situations.

A missing Schedule A, "Itemized Deductions" for example, where the return indicates the taxpayer is deducting itemized deductions, rather than the standard deduction, brings the work on the return to a halt. It won't start again until the taxpayer furnishes the form. Taxpayers who had more than one employer but attach a single W-2 Form are also causing delays. If no error is noted in the editing and examination phases, the tax return information is converted to computer language and recorded on magnetic tape. Service Center computers then check the arithmetic and identify each erroneous return and the problem, printing an error register citing the offending entries.

The computers can correct simple math errors, but other mistakes must be corrected by technicians. For example, mistakes in figuring adjusted gross income, listing of income other than wages, medical and dental expenses, and other deductions. And, all this takes time — on the average, a week will be added to the processing time.

For the returns that receive the computer's blessing, the next action is in the IRS

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Feb. 17, 1977 Page 24

National Computer Center in Martinsburg, W. Va., where the data is transferred to the taxpayer's master tax file.

After the computers scan the master file to assure that the taxpayer doesn't owe back taxes, a tax refund tape is sent to the Treasury Disbursing Center where refund checks are printed and mailed for those due refunds.

How can I avoid a refund-delaying error? The IRS readily admits that there's no foolproof way, but stresses that most errors can be found by the taxpayer in a few minutes of review before the return is mailed.

First visit to dentist

(This is the fourth in a series of six articles on dental health, published by the Press-Record in cooperation with the Madison District Dental Society in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week.)

"I want to make sure that my two-year-old son has good teeth all his life. When should I take him to the dentist for the first time and how should I prepare him for this first visit?"

Dr. F. Scott Hendrickson, a member of the Executive Council of the Madison District (Six-County) Dental Society, replies:

A child should visit the dentist before all of his primary teeth have appeared.

The average child will have his full set of 20 primary teeth by the age of two or two and a half years.

Because these teeth are so important to a child's future well-being and appearance, it is important that they be well taken care of.

You can help your child develop a positive attitude about this first trip to the dentist that will influence his feelings about dental care throughout life.

You will want to explain in a very general way what the child can expect. For example, the dentist will examine the child's teeth. He may also clean them and take x-ray pictures to detect any hidden dental problems.

These early examinations are important because surveys show that 50 per cent of two-year-old children have one or more decayed teeth.

During the first visit, the dentist will discuss with you a program for regular dental care for your child, scheduling future visits to meet individual needs.

Twice a year may be sufficient for some children, whereas closer supervision may be necessary for others.

By helping the child establish a friendly relationship with the dentist, you can eliminate fears that could lead to his neglecting needed dental care later on in life.

Oppose lifting parking ban at Nameoki tavern

Several residents of Eduardo Drive near Groucho's Tavern at Route 162 attended the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors meeting Monday night to voice objections to a proposal to remove several "no parking" signs and provide about 10 diagonal parking spaces at the side of the tavern.

The residents disagreed with statements at a previous meeting from Auditors W. Lee Adams and Norman Hessler that they had contacted several Eduardo Drive residents and they were in favor of having the parking ban removed.

Adams and Hessler said trash behind and around the tavern had been removed.

The residents at the meeting alleged there still is trash in the area and said most residents do not want the parking ban lifted, and most had not been asked for their opinions.

Photos of the area were given to the board.

Highway commissioner

Albert Bell said the decision whether to keep or remove the no parking signs must be made by himself and said he would remove the signs at the side of the tavern only if petitioned to do so by a majority of the residents of that area.

Whitell pledged he would send several manpower grant employees to the area to clean up any trash or debris.

There also was a question if the tavern has a limit on how many patrons can be inside at any one time.

The township's attorney, H. Carl Runge Jr., said he is sure all taverns have a capacity set by fire officials, but did not know what the capacity for Groucho's Tavern is.

Convocation, transition planned

About 150 representative members of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville constitutencies and 15 discussion leaders identified problems and discussed giving them priority ratings in a five-hour marathon series of discussions during the weekend at the university. Called a "problem identification process," the discussion marathon was designed by President Kenneth A. Shaw "to assist in the establishment of university priorities and to elicit and encourage participation from all constitutencies." The president explained, "basically, we are attempting to determine what the campus community sees as the most important problems facing us at this time." The meeting began with a plenary session and opening remarks by Pres. Shaw in the University Center. The 150 participants then divided into 15 discussion groups, each with a discussion leader. Sixteen major problems areas were presented to the groups for their consideration. Dr. Shaw said an objective would be for the individual groups to thoroughly discuss the problems and rank them according to priority of importance. The groups were to summarize their conclusions into a composite priority listing to be presented to the president the same evening. Many are exploring the issues further and will submit comments on the priorities this week. On March 3, Pres. Shaw is scheduled to address a university convocation, discussing the problems and recommendations for their resolution. Meanwhile, the president said that in an effort to facilitate an orderly progression from the previous administration of the university to the current one, he has designated a transitional period from Jan. 17, the day he became president, to June 30. "This time will be used to evaluate and, where needed, to modify the organizational structure, to modify personnel assignments, and to establish operational procedures within the administration," the President said.

"Accordingly, I have asked Senior Vice-President Ralph W. Ruffner also to serve during the transitional period as coordinator of the assessment of central organization and operations in order to develop recommendations for my consideration. "This period is designed to insure that the administrative function of the university receives the judicious attention it deserves. The president said he began developing the Problem Identification Process (PIP) with the help of Vice-President Ruffner while Ruffner was the acting president. Various groups were requested to provide the president with their views of the problems and challenges of greatest concern to the university. Thirty-four reports were received, and 141 specific problem statements were identified. The statements were then categorized and grouped under broader headings for submission to the PIP participants and discussion leaders for their reactions and suggestions. The 16 final problem headings are: administration, affirmative action, budget, collective bargaining, curriculum, East St. Louis Center, external relations, governance, institutional excellence, internal communications, morale, personnel policies and operations, planning, recruitment and retention of students, salaries, and student concerns. The PIP discussion leaders were: Robert O. Anderson, associate professor, department of speech communications; Thomas O. Baldwin, professor, department of physics; William D. Burck, assistant professor, department of counselor education. Neal Butler, student; William D. Claudon, professor, department of music; Curtis W. Cook, visiting associate professor, department of management; Frederick R. Douglas, assistant to the director of University Services to East St. Louis; Robert Gill, graduate student. Patricia A. Goeb, instructor, department of speech communications; Donald Keefe, associate professor, department of secondary education. Irving J. Kessler, associate professor, department of mathematical studies; Richard N. McKinney, associate professor, department of business administration.

Robert Russo, professor, department of psychology and associate dean of the Graduate School; Arthur C. Zahalsky, professor, department of biological sciences; and Gilbert N. Zoeller, associate professor, School of Dental Medicine. Each discussion group included a representative from either the East St. Louis or Alton center, an administrator and a Non-Academic Advisory Council person. The remaining seven persons in each group were faculty members and students proportionate to their representation on the University Senate.

In an announcement to the university community preceding the PIP meeting, Pres. Shaw said, "I look forward to working with each of you as we pull together in improving all the functions of this institution, and I will attempt to keep you well informed of our progress."

MRS. MARGARET WADE of Venice, a newly-named community worker in consumer and home-making information and skills.

Mrs. Wade to aid consumers

Margaret Wade, Venice, has been promoted from the position of program assistant to community worker. It was announced by Catherine R. Mauck, Madison County University of Illinois home economics extension advisor. Mrs. Wade worked for five years in the Madison area as an Illinois U. consumer and home-making education program assistant.

In her new U. of I. community worker position, she will continue to work in the local area providing a program of educational activities for homemakers on limited budgets who have been "graduated out" of CHIEP, thereby increasing the program's outreach into the community.

In this role, Mrs. Wade will organize the women into groups and teach them consumer and home-making information and skills. She also will involve volunteers and resource people in teaching classes on consumer topics. Other U. of I. Cooperative Extension Service para professionals working as program assistants in the Quad City area include: Meadame Lenora Brown, Norma Burns, Wilma Hancock, Drew Heles Johnson, Yvonne Marr, Eve Mae Davenport, Verma McClelland, Viola Favier, Margaret Feeney and Evelyn Schneidewind.

Madison Federal reports 'excellent year' in '76

Assets of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association reached $30,771,728 at the end of 1976, an increase of 21.1 per cent over a year ago, A.H. Froemling, president, reported at the annual meeting Wednesday.

Madison County Federal paid a record amount of interest to its savings depositors, $1,439,472, adding $70,390 to its reserves, bringing the total reserves up to $1,528,208.

"Savings deposits from our customers during 1976 amounted to a record $26,358,487," Froemling said. The increase in savings deposits allowed us to take care of the needs of our local mortgage market. As 1976 went forward the housing market in this area picked up a marked degree, showing that much of the uncertainty on the part of the public had been replaced by a feeling of cautious optimism.

"Looking forward to 1977 it is likely that savings deposits will continue to come in good quantity and thus will be able to support what should be a year of even further improvement in the housing market."

Froemling said that in 1976 Madison County Federal financed a total of 146 homes and apartments in and around Granite City. The total mortgage loans made during the year amounted to a total dollar volume of $5,666,094.

The following directors were re-elected at the annual meeting: Robert B. Dunlap, Ernest L. Hopkins, John W. Reese, John Palchett, William C. Rainford, Dr. Kenneth J. Hillner, Gilbert Rosch and Albert H. Froemling, and Raymond Kozielek was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Arthur F. Buehler who had served the association as director for 30 years.

Officers elected for 1977 were: A. H. Froemling, president; J. L. Winnings, vice-president; Paul F. Sodko, secretary-treasurer; Marilyn C. Harris, assistant secretary; Barbara A. Holshouser, assistant secretary; and Joyce N. Corey, assistant secretary.

"During 1976 and continuing into 1977, our savings accounts and certificates of deposit bear the highest rates in our history," Froemling said.

"Last year was an excellent year for the association, and as it looks right now, 1977 should also turn out to be a year of continued progress."

Cross-divisional university links

Dean Carol A. Keene sat in her office on the third floor of the Peck Building. The office is still fairly new to her because she has been dean of the School of Humanities at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for only five months.

As she sat behind a neat desk, she stressed that interdisciplinary studies are important for a university and that more should be done to build up that program.

"There is a lot of talent on this campus," she said. "What needs to be furthered is more communication across these artificial divisions of schools and even within the schools of this university."

Dean Keene has taken a step in that direction by extending her perspectives in a series of humanities lectures on campus, promoting cross-disciplinary discussion among both students and faculty.

The 36-year-old philosophy teacher also said that the research program on campus is important in the university's development.

"I think it is exciting to be on a campus that is relatively young," the dean said. "I am pleased with the sense of commitment I perceive in the university toward humanistic education."

She said the average age of the undergraduate at SIUE is higher than in most universities. Many of the students are married and working full-time.

"This results in increased seriousness in the classroom," she said.

Dean Keene, a professional philosopher, was reared in Chicago. There, she attended St. Xavier College and received her degree in philosophy.

She earned her master's degree at Loyola University in Chicago and her doctorate at St. Louis University.

Her 14-year teaching career started at Fontbonne College in St. Louis. She then taught at St.

DEAN CAROL KEENE

Louis University before going to SIUE.

"I'm addicted to good literature, classical French and Russian. I also like to read detective stories."

Presently, she is working on an edition of the notebooks of F. H. Bradley.

Dean Keene has already completed a manuscript of an edition of Bradley's correspondence. This work took her to Oxford University for four years.

The dean said presently there is a growing concern about the literacy of high school graduates, and that SIUE is not exempt from these worries.

"This school does have a strong commitment to the writing clinic," she said, pointing out that the clinic at SIUE gives aid in the writing of papers and in grammar.

"But something has to be done within each community, in primary and even secondary education," she said. "We can't do it all ourselves."

Counts appointed as an aide to McPike

Jim McPike, state representative, 56th District, has announced the appointment of James Counts as his legislative aide. Counts, who lives at 3200 Harvard, State Park Place, will work with Rep. McPike in "trying to bring state government closer to the people, cutting red tape and making problem-solving somewhat simpler."

Rep. McPike said State Park Place is located in a unique spot in the district. "Being on the boundary of Madison and St. Clair Counties, State Park is of equal distance from a number of population centers, but is not in itself large enough to usually demand special attention.

"Counts knows the people in State Park Place and their problems. By making him legislative aide, we can give them the extra special attention they deserve," McPike said. "With offices in Alton and Granite City and with two legislative aides the caliber of Jim Counts, we should be able to provide our constituents the personal service they need."

Motivational expert at North High today

As part of Career Awareness Month at Granite City High School North, senior and junior students heard Charles T. Bell Jr., speak on the subject, "Opportunities Unlimited," during assemblies at the school today.

Bell, an educator for the past 15 years, works in the area of student motivation and occupational guidance with the Moser and Robert Morris School Divisions at Robert Morris College in Carthage, Ill.

The motivational program, presented by Bell, compared income levels of skilled and unskilled workers and the various professions.

He emphasized to the students the importance of looking at various career possibilities early in the junior and senior year.

Bell encouraged the young people to visit and compare several possibilities for post-secondary education and urged them to talk with individuals currently employed in the career area they are investigating and to become better acquainted with the skills required.

Bell received his master's degree in guidance and counseling from Western Illinois University at Macomb. Prior to joining the Robert Morris College staff four years ago, he was a classroom teacher for three years and a college admissions counselor and admissions director for four years. He spent another four years as a college financial aid director.

Bell is the author of a forthcoming book dealing with occupational guidance — "How Do I Know?"

Three additional programs are planned at North High in connection with the "Career Awareness" series.

He received a bachelor of science degree in physics at the University of Illinois in 1965. A master of science degree in physics was granted at the University of Illinois in 1967.

Dr. Purdes served as a member of the technical staff of Texas Instruments, Inc., at Attleboro, Mass., from 1967 until 1971. He was a graduate assistant at Northwestern University, where he also was a Royal E. Cabell Fellow prior to graduation.

His publications include "BaTiO<sub>3</sub> Surface Barriers and the Theory of the FET Effect," Ferroelectrics 2, 176 (1971).

He is at present employed as a senior scientist at Gould, Inc., an electronic research laboratory in Rolling Meadows.

Dr. Purdes' doctoral study dealt with "crystal structure determinations of the donor-acceptor complexes of phenothiazine and phenoxazine with nickel thiocyanate."

He has written that "the structure of composition-modulated copper-nickel and gold-silver thin films — textured and vapor-deposited — having a composition modulation between 0.8 and 5.0, was examined using x-ray diffraction and transmission electron microscopy."

"The average planar spacing along the modulation, and fractional deviation from this average, were measured as a function of composition amplitude and wave length."

"For both the CuNi and AuAg systems, the amplitude dependence was much larger than predicted by the classical models. The quantity independent of wave length for the AuAg system. For the CuNi system, however, there was a strong wavelength function."

"This increase for the CuNi system correlated with a previously observed increase in Young's modulus in the same wave length range." Clear so far?

"A similar wave length dependence for the CuNi and AuNi systems, which also exhibit a modulus enhancement, had previously been interpreted as evidence for a gradual loss of coherency with increasing wavelength. For the CuNi systems, this apparent loss of coherency was shown to be an artifact resulting from a substrate-imposed planar strain."

"It was concluded that the observed structural and modulus variations in the CuNi, CuPd and AuNi systems were consistent with a perturbation of the band structure energy by the composition modulation."

His cousin chose a much different study topic. Her dissertation selection of the cultural heritage of India stemmed from a portion of her extensive foreign travel.

"On the basis of a perceived need for introducing a humanistic approach to students across several levels, an investigation into the possibility of developing a systematic learning package of India was undertaken," she relates.

"In fact, I surveyed, both informally and formally, several schools in an attempt to discover their needs and interests in understanding India's cultural heritage."

"It was demonstrated that need and interest were high. In order to determine an approach to teaching students about India or India's culture, several commercial 'media packages' were surveyed."

"Although these packages were judged to be incomplete and sometimes loosely organized, it was obvious that their basic plan of presenting color photos — by means of slides or filmstrips and some narration — is valid."

"The approach to the learning units contained in this study was systematic. It consisted of initially developing behavioral objectives before constructing the actual learning materials."

"After construction of the materials, assessments were made of the students' learning. In most cases, students were pre-tested as well as post-tested. This type of evaluation resulted in a refinement of both the testing procedures and the materials themselves."

"The final product took the form of four units on India, each unit containing a set of behavioral objectives, required and recommended readings, a glossary of indigenous terms, a slide-type narration and an assessment or evaluation."

Unit 1 emphasizes Madras, Gendal, Calcutta and a general history of India. Unit 2 discusses the religions of the Indians with particular emphasis on Banaras.

"Unit 3 describes the city of Agra, the Taj Mahal and the form of architecture. Unit 4 gives an overall view of India's customs, music, crafts and arts."

"These units are intended to be used by the instructor with the humanities content for a broad range of grade levels."

"It was concluded after consultation of these units that, due to their obvious success in terms of learning and interest by the individuals who participated, this systematic approach to development of instruction can serve as a model for those persons who wish to create their own learning units," she concludes.

While India continues to fascinate her, another recent development has focused her interest on Thailand as well.

Research is being conducted by Dr. Ananai Singhbandhu, scientific officer of the Royal Thai government, Bangkok, Thailand.

Dr. Singhbandhu received her Ph.D. degree at SIUC in September 1975.

She has written to Dr. Purdes, "I am indebted to Dr. Catherine McHugh and Dr. Alice Purdes for your success. I am going to be chairman of a new and active section which will be officially established by the fiscal year of October 1977."

"This new section deals with industrial pollution and is called Section of Analyses and Research on Industrial Pollution."

"I am also conducting research on toxicity from cosmetics and food. My research is published monthly in a leading women's magazine."

"As a result of my research, I have been offered a grant to continue my work and to establish an institute for the formulation of various types of cosmetics."

"Since you and Dr. McHugh are in part responsible for my success, I would like to name the laboratory 'Purdes-McHugh' for you. Please let me know if I have your permission to do so."

"I will inform the committee of your answer. Be assured that you will not be responsible for any of the taxes."

"I will do my best, not only for myself, but also for the both of you."

Dr. McHugh is professor of music education at SIUC.

Dr. Singhbandhu received bachelor of science and master of science degrees in the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry at SIUC.

Dr. Alice Purdes' reply to the Thailand offer was, "It is with great honor and pleasure that I give my permission for use of my family name in the entitling of the laboratory used by Dr. Ananai Singhbandhu for further research in her chosen field."

GC to hike salaries of mayor, clerk, treasurer

An ordinance increasing the salaries in the offices of mayor, city clerk and city treasurer by 3.5 per cent was authorized by the Granite City council Tuesday night.

The ordinance which is to be prepared by City Attorney George Filicoff and presented to the council for enactment in its Feb. 22 meeting, will set the new salary of the mayor at $24,500 with expenses of $4,900 for a total of $29,400.

New salaries of the city clerk and treasurer will be set at $20,475 with expenses of $600 for a total of $21,075 each. Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward, chairman of the council's negotiating committee, noted that salaries in these three elective offices have remained unchanged for the past four years. He said the salary increases recommended by his committee were based on percentage raises given other city employees from year to year over the four-year period.

Under state law the salary of an elected official may not be increased during the term of office. The raises proposed by the council will become effective May 1, beginning of the new terms of officials elected to those three offices in this year's April 5 city election.

On the basis of recommendations by the negotiating committee, the mayor's salary will be increased from its present $19,500 to $24,500. There will be no increase in the mayor's salary of $1,000 annually as city liquor control commissioner or in an $1,800 per year expense allowance and a $2,100 annual car expense.

The liquor commissioner's salary and expense allowances total $4,900 to bring the mayor's annual income to the $29,400 figure.

The salaries of the city clerk and treasurer will be raised from the present $15,000 per year by $5,475 to a new salary of $20,475 plus an expense allowance of $600 per year for a total of $21,075.

The clerk and treasurer have been receiving $15,000 annually with no expense allowance. In a report to the council, Decatur's committee noted that city employees received a 5.5 per cent raise in 1973, a 6 per cent raise in 1974, 12 per cent in 1975 and 8 per cent boost in 1976 for a total of 31.3 per cent of their salaries as of four years ago.

The committee recommended that an additional 5 per cent be added to the new salaries to meet salary raises that will be granted this year, for a total increase of 36.3 per cent in the salaries of the elected officials. Decatur distributed the

Development grant funds increased

Nameoki Township officials were notified at Monday night's Nameoki Town Board of Auditors meeting that their eligible share from the county's Community Development grant has been increased by $10,348 due to an additional $617,000 the county has received.

Mary Kane, Community Development coordinator for the county, recently received an increase in the county grant from the initial $3 million to a final total of $3,617,000.

She said the decision was reached by county officials to put $328,816 in the contingency fund for later allocation as discretionary funds for new projects.

Of the remaining $413,184, a total of $100,000 was allocated to the housing rehabilitation program, $20,000 was directed for administration and planning, $42,250 was directed toward county land acquisition and $20,834 is to be divided among the five districts in the county.

District Two, which is comprised of the Quad-City area, will receive $72,862, which is being divided among the cities, villages, and townships. Louis Whitsett, supervisor of Nameoki Township, told the town board Monday night that notification of the additional $10,348 reached him too close to the deadline for filing applications and that he was not able to call a meeting of the township's Community Development Citizens' Committee, so he had to decide how to apply for the money.

"Therefore, I have made a decision to split the money between the Long Lake and State Park fire departments to get our request in on time," he informed the committee members.

The final application, with an additional $3,174 requested for each fire department, now seeks $20,174 for a State Park fire truck, $46,174 for a new long Lake Volunteer Fire Department garage building, $19,684 to provide larger water mains and fire hydrants in the Cloverleaf Subdivision, and $25,000 to aid senior citizens in paying the cost of sewer hook-ups should sanitary sewers be constructed through the township.

Car wash burglary

Nothing is known missing after a burglary at the Pep Car Wash, 3318 Nameoki Road, which was discovered Monday.

The rear door on the east side was pried open and the locked cigarette case on the wall was forced.

An attempt to open a safe with a chisel failed, but the tumbler was knocked from the safe door.

Precinct changes by county

In order to alleviate an oversight which left many newly-annexed residents of Granite City as eligible voters only in their original townships, the Madison County Board Wednesday passed a resolution changing the boundaries of Granite City Township to encompass areas that have been annexed.

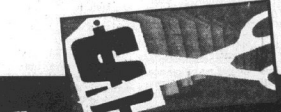

The measure increases the size of county precincts 8, 22, 30, 31 and 32 in Granite City Township.

Among the areas added to Granite City Township, which shares identical boundaries with the city, are lots in the Bloodworth Subdivision, Belmore Place, Norwood Terrace, Pine Street, The 2300 blocks of Emert Avenue and Zippel Avenue, the 3200 block of Kilmer Drive, 2446 Starford Lane, 3268 Willow Ave., 1708 Ferguson Avenue and other areas.

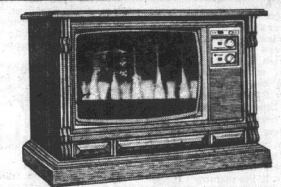

On a motion by Boyd, council members voted unanimously to instruct Filicoff to bring in an ordinance establishing the new salaries as recommended by Decatur's committee.

Nameoki studies future of ambulance service

Nameoki Township officials hope to meet with Bob Thomas, operator of Thomas Ambulance Service, as well as with representatives of the Long Lake and Mitchell volunteer fire departments and Chouteau Township officials as soon as possible to discuss the future of ambulance service.

Thomas Ambulance Service has said it will discontinue the operation of all emergency ambulances, except one, by March 15. Granite City, Madison and Venice have been studying ways of providing their own service.

Granite City rejected the possibility of assisting Thomas Ambulance financially after City Attorney George Filcoff ruled that direct financial aid to a private business would be illegal.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell, in a letter to the township attorney read at Monday night's Nameoki Township Board of Auditors meeting, asked the attorney, H. Carl Funge Jr., if he would attempt to attend a meeting on ambulance service when such a meeting is arranged.

"I proposed to Mr. Thomas that we may be able to supplement his service if he could consider continuing his ambulance service to Nameoki and Chouteau townships. Mr. Thomas said he was interested and will contact me later for a meeting which I am requesting that you attend along with both townships and both fire districts," Whitsell said in the letter.

He also said the Illinois Department of Public Health has estimated the first-year operation of one ambulance would cost the township $133,378. "We would need two ambulances, at least," he added.

"This is more than the Long Lake and Mitchell fire districts together could raise with a maximum tax rate of 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation," Whitsell noted.

Mrs. Dessie Singleton, 66, of East St. Louis, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:30 p.m. Monday suffering cuts to both knees and pain in the stomach, following an auto accident.

Mrs. Hazel Nolen, 36, of Arkansas, a passenger in the auto driven by Mrs. Singleton, was treated for a bruise to the face and left knee and released.

Mrs. Mary Austin, 48, of Rural Route One, Box 364, was treated for a cut to the chin and knees, pain to the neck and released.

The auto, driven by Mrs. Singleton westbound on Pontoon Road, allegedly swerved to avoid a dog and collided with the eastbound auto driven by Mrs. Austin, according to Pontoon Beach police, at 2:10 p.m. Monday near Pontoon Road and Division Street.

Madison youth sentenced

Circuit Judge Moses W. Harrison II has sentenced David Maple, 17, of Gareche Homes, Madison, to serve one to three years in prison for burglary, and Jennifer Krolowitz Whitt, 24, of 2463 Adams St., to serve one year of probation for burglary.

The sentences were pronounced in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville after guilty pleas by both. Maple pleaded guilty to breaking into O'Dell's Iron and Metal, Market and State streets, Venice, Oct. 26. Two 16-year-olds arrested in connection with the same case were taken to juvenile court.

Mrs. Whitt pleaded guilty to burglary at the apartment of Linda Beane, 2103a Amos Ave., July 28. A witness saw a man carrying items from that apartment into a pickup truck while a woman held the door open. They left in a pickup truck with a camper and Ohio license plates.

An investigation into the ownership of the truck led to the arrests of two persons, including Mrs. Whitt.

Also before Judge Harrison, Henry Byrd, 25, of the 900 block of Jefferson St., Madison, pleaded guilty to unlawful delivery of a controlled substance containing heroin July 1, 1976, and is to be sentenced March 11, following a presentence investigation.

Byrd was one of numerous persons arrested following an undercover drug investigation in this area by agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG) of Southwestern Illinois during the summer.

Furnish student lounges

Expenditure of up to $49,000 from the Student Welfare and Recreational Facility Building Trust, fund at SIUE to equip and furnish student lounge areas at the Alton and East St. Louis centers was authorized last week by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Items authorized for the East St. Louis center are estimated to cost $25,030 and include sofas, lounge chairs, tables, a color television set, magazine racks, a movie screen, bulletin boards, and recreational games and equipment including table tennis, pool table, chess, checkers, darts and others.

University officers said lounge and recreation area furnishings and equipment at the East St. Louis center have deteriorated over time and are in need of replacement. Furnishings and equipment requested for the Alton center will complete the lounge and recreation areas provided by recent renovations there. The items, totaling $23,605, include lounge chairs, sofas, tables, lamps, magazine racks, trash receptacles, a microwave oven and recreational tables and equipment.

Acquisition of the furnishings and equipment was proposed by the Student Senate, with concurrence by university officers.

FIVE SHOTGUNS STOLEN

Five shotguns, a piggy bank with about $10 in it, $50 in old coins, a 1948 Elgin pocket watch, and an H & R pistol, all with a total value of over $500, were taken from the residence of John Hoff, 2605 Dale Ave.; the theft occurred before 6 p.m. Friday. Thieves pried a lock after removing the screen to gain entry.

Frozen canned foods are usually still edible

By DARLENE HEER
Madison County
Extension Adviser,
Home Economics

Sub-freezing temperatures in Illinois have created many inconveniences for consumers. What to do with frozen canned foods is one problem some homemakers face.

A single freezing and thawing will not affect canned foods adversely except for a slight change in the texture of some products.

Creamy foods may curdle or separate upon freezing. But heating these foods will usually restore the original consistency. During freezing, the contents of a can expand and put a strain on the can seams, causing the ends to bulge. Check the container after it thaws to be sure the ends return to their normal flat appearance.

If they do not, air has gotten into the can and the contents will not keep. These foods should be eaten immediately.

This also applies to home canned foods. If the jars are not cracked and the seal has not been broken, they are safe to keep. If the contents are still frozen and there is room in your freezer, put the jars in your freezer and use them quickly.

Use all thawed canned goods as soon as possible.

Store canned foods in a dry, moderately cool place. Avoid storing food near steam pipes, radiators, furnaces and kitchen ranges.

A home freezer dressed in red flannels sounds ridiculous. But did you know that your freezer will not function properly if it gets too cold?

Research by the U.S. Department of Agriculture shows that unless a home freezer is specifically designed to operate in low temperatures, it should not be placed where the temperature falls below 40 degrees F. Placing the freezer in a warm room may create other problems. The higher the room temperature, the more the motor must run to maintain the correct freezer temperature, which is 0 degrees F.

Higher temperatures mean greater operating costs and more wear on the freezer. The ideal location for a freezer is a dry cool, well-ventilated room.

A damp place is likely to cause condensation on the freezer's outer walls and damage the outer surface. The metal surfaces of the motor, motor supports and springs can also be damaged.

Air circulation to carry off the heat from the freezer motor is necessary. A freezer should not be fitted snugly in a niche with walls on three sides.

If your freezer is located in a damp area, put it on a sturdy platform so air will circulate beneath it. By adding heavy casters to the platform, you can move the freezer more easily—a real help when you're cleaning.

A strong floor is another requirement for freezer placement. The freezer itself is heavy. A full load can add several hundred pounds.

Though convenience of location is a point to consider, it is not of major importance because freezers are usually opened only once or twice a day.

AM-FM STEREO STOLEN
Forced entry to the driver's side of a new auto on the lot of Granite City Dodge, 1911 Madison Ave., was reported by Jack Schumacher, who discovered the burglary at noon Friday. Extensive damage was done to the dash while the thieves pried off the stereo. No estimate of damage was made. The stereo was valued at $145.

Windo's to perform "Marriage Musical"

A musical entitled "I Promise to Love" will be presented at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at the Third Baptist Church, 2601 Grand Ave., by The Windo's, an ensemble of young adults, under the direction of the Rev. John Nading, minister of music. They have performed the musical at various churches and for the Granite City Steel Women's Club. The Rev. Nading announces the Windo's regular gospel and patriotic concerts have been presented at the Federal Prayer Breakfasts in St. Louis and Granite City, many church services and rallies and a return engagement at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. and will perform at the forthcoming Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award program.

Composed by Derric Johnson and performed coast to coast by his group The Re-Generation, "I Promise to Love" is a musical experience of christian marriage. Rev. John Nading, minister of music, reports that the performance allows time for reflection, restatement, and commitment. The staging will include a musical ceremony with a bride and groom and an opportunity for all of those already married to repeat their wedding vows.

Robyn Hendricks marries Kevin Michael Brennan

Miss Robyn Elaine Hendricks and Kevin Michael Brennan exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony at St. Clare Catholic Church in O'Fallon on Jan. 29.

The Rt. Rev. Magr. Edmund Luge officiated at the double ring service at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hendricks, Rural Route One, O'Fallon, formerly of Granite City. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Brennan, 202 Monroe Circle, O'Fallon.

Nuptial selections were provided by Dan Becherer and Choir, prior to the ceremony. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride, selected a white organ gown fashioned in a princess line silhouette designed with a ruffled bib of ivory Brussels lace edged with pearls and edged with Cluny lace.

The high neckline and long fitted sleeves were created in ivory lace and large Venise lace floral motifs with pearl centers created the long skirt, which was encircled with a deep flounce and swept into a cathedral train.

A camellia headpiece of Cluny lace and pearls secured her lace bordered fingertip veil. She held a cascade of white carnations, yellow roses and baby's breath centered with a yellow orchid. Bridal attendants included

Miss Sherrie L. Hendricks, a sister of the bride, Miss Cindy Tompkins, Miss Sue Clover, Miss Kathi Smith, a cousin of the bride and Miss Tanya McKenna, the groom's cousin, as junior bridesmaids.

They wore identical Navy blue flowered calico print dresses fashioned in a princess style with ivory lace overlay front panels which laced from the waists to the V-necklines. The puff sleeves terminated with long fitted lace cuffs and a deep gathered flounce bordered the hemlines, to create an old fashioned look.

Each attendant carried a small puffy handbag of matching print and held a single long stem yellow rose, festooned with baby's breath, fern and yellow ribbons.

Kathy Brennan, the groom's sister, served as flower girl. She and the junior bridesmaid were dressed in identical calico print frocks in a Holly Hobby fashion complemented with ivory eyelid pinafore.

The flower girl wore a Holly Hobby bonnet and each carried a basket of yellow roses and white carnations.

Eddie Hendricks, a brother of the bride, served as ringbearer. The groom chose Rick Wagner as best man, John and Tommy Brennan, Jimmy, Brian, Greg and Timmy Hendricks, brothers of the bride, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers. Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Shiloh Community Park Klucker Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Brennan, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home.

Both young people graduated from O'Fallon High School and attended Belleville Area College. The former Miss Hendricks is employed at Denny's Restaurant and the groom works at National Stock Yards.

They are residing in O'Fallon following a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark.

Granite Chapter plans events

A chicken dinner set for March 6 at the Masonic Temple, which is open to the public, was the main topic of discussion at a meeting of Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, held during the weekend.

Tickets are now available from any member of the chapter, Bill Watkins, ticket chairman, announced. Worthy Matron Maxine Compton and Bill Watkins, worthy patron, were in charge of the semi-monthly session.

Mrs. Augusta Pender was introduced as "sweetheart" for the evening. Others presented were Hazel Wood, Arline Fox and Mary Billrey, grand lecturers and grand chapter committee members.

Charles Youngs is a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital, it was noted.

The worthy matron extended appreciation to Mrs. Louis Orr, who provided the decorations for a previous meeting and to Mrs. Mary Ann DeLart and her committee, Nora Gibbons, Vee Throne, John DeLart, Cleveland Cox, Pauline Cox, Betty Elbrecht, Dora Youngs and Guyla Stuart for their assistance during the year.

Mrs. Donna Kagy served as conductress at a meeting of the Edwardsville chapter this week.

A program on new projects planned by the chapter for the forthcoming year were presented by Mrs. Hazel Wood. Following the meeting refreshments were served to 60 members in the dining room decorated in a Valentine theme. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 25 at the Masonic Temple.

Gardenaires study shrubs

A program entitled "Shrubs in the Limelight" by Mrs. Charles Kohl and a discussion concerning environmental workshop information received by Mrs. Alex Tardoff, conservation chairman, highlighted a meeting of the Gardenaires Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Earl Glenn.

Mrs. Mary Kristian, president, presided at the regular meeting in which members responded to roll call by giving the botanical name of a shrub in the member's home garden.

Mrs. Kohl told the group that many hedges may be used as a fence, such as lilac, flowering almond, highbush cranberry, mock orange, weigela, honeysuckle, spiraea and barberry.

She suggested that club members may like to try one of the five easy-growing shrubs — beauty bush, hydrangea, rose, quince or forsythia.

Mrs. Al Malott reported that the Mini-Garden Center display at the Public Library is made up of various kinds of flowers, books and articles shown. Lincoln Memorial Gardens, 2301 E. Lake Drive, Springfield, has an interesting program for the weekend of Feb. 19 and 20, which is "sugaring off time — tapping of sugar maple trees. Lincoln Memorial Gardens is supported by the Garden Clubs of Illinois, the Gardenaires Garden Club being a contributing member.

Other attending were Mesdames C. E. Eads, Roy Hornmann, Richard Kerch, Thomas Layfield, William Long, Leo Schank, A. B. Shannon and Mrs. Robert Hing.

The next regular meeting will be March 10 at the home of Mrs. Leo Schank.

Amusement machines require state stamps

The Illinois Department of Revenue is reminding operators of coin-operated amusement machines that the machines must be licensed annually or they could be confiscated.

The department this month seized 60 unlicensed machines in the Chicago and Springfield area in a continuing crackdown on violations of the state's Coin-Operated Amusement Device Tax Act.

The act provides for seizure of machines that do not bear a tax stamp, which is issued by the department on payment of a $10 annual license fee.

A revenue spokesman said the department licensed 99 machines within the first day after the seizure operation.

The law applies to any machine whose sole purpose is amusement and which is operated by insertion of a coin.

The machines would include juke boxes, pinball games, coin-operated pool tables and projectors, and similar devices.

Applications for licenses can be obtained by writing to: Illinois Department of Revenue, Coin-Operated Amusement Device Unit, Box 4009, Springfield, Ill. 62708.

The tax stamp must be displayed on the machine.

Mine union established in this region in 1897

(Sangamon State University)

Alexander Bradley was born in England into a coal miner's family on Nov. 29, 1888. The family settled near Collinsville in 1893, and at the age of nine "Alex" was picking slate at Devil's Hole, a mine near the city.

Within a short time, he learned the frustrations of local strikes and of lack of unity among miners. He overheard his father and friends whispering of organization.

As he expressed it, he "stored up in his soul a bitter hatred of the oppressor and a great longing for the time when the miner should stand up and face the mine-owner and insist on fair treatment and a wage sufficient to permit him to live like a human being."

Within a few years, the family moved to Mt. Olive, and the elder Bradley and his son found work in the nearby coal mines. Alex became a self-appointed organizer for the United Mine Workers of America, which in the mid-1890s claimed as members fewer than 400 of Illinois' 35,000 miners.

The UMWA gave miners like Bradley across the nation an opportunity to test their commitments when they called a "countrywide strike for July 4, 1897."

That day, in the woods near Mt. Olive, Bradley held a secret meeting, attended by the more militant miners.

They resolved to uphold the UMWA but recognized the futility of their action unless the big fields in Southern Illinois were out, too.

Bradley and another Mt. Olive miner rushed to Belleville, and at two meetings the young leader spoke such "large, divine and comfortable words" that the Belleville miners voted to strike.

But as soon as Bradley returned to Mt. Olive, word reached him that the leaders could not keep the men from returning to work.

Bradley was infuriated and shouted to his local followers, "I was there and they gave me their word of honor to stick with us."

"I'm goin' down there again and I'm goin' to take you fellows along! We'll all march down."

So began the march south. The food supply was to be replenished by donations from sympathizers or by "the general fund," held by Bradley and made up of contributions from the miners.

They marched through the night; a band met them at Staunton and marched with them a few miles out of town.

Miners from that city and Worden, already on strike, fell into line. By 5 a.m. on Friday, 300 miners had arrived in Edwardsville.

Later that day, the miners there voted to strike, even though they had just returned to work from a local strike of several months' duration.

Bradley was, as one reporter put it, "an itinerant excuse" for local leaders to bring their men out.

At Glen Carbon, the leader was George Horne, a ponderous, powerful and methodical man.

He went with Bradley and added some system and regularity to the march.

Such leaders were awakened in each town, but they needed Bradley to stir them and their followers to still another struggle.

The marchers left Glen Carbon on July 17, and pushed on to Collinsville where Bradley addressed the miners at Bohemia Park.

"We pleased with you as brothers," he said, "and ask you to help us, because we are working for the common interest of all the coal miners of America."

"In the name of suffering humanity, quit work!" They did.

After resting the night of Monday, July 19, in O'Fallon, Bradley's men piled into seven covered wagons provided by the townspeople to take them through the mud to Belleville.

By Friday, most of the Belleville miners had poured the oil from their lamps for the duration of the strike.

Bradley left for DuQuoin by train later that day to try his luck alone. The next week he went to Murphysboro to speak to the miners there.

Murphysboro and DuQuoin miners left the pits as soon as their "yellow dog" contracts ran out on July 31.

Bradley's next stop was Coffee, where by Aug. 14 there were 500 men in "sticker" camp and more arriving daily.

He and the strikers were forbidden to enter the town. But the "general" had formed his men into ranks, eight abreast, and they marched in silence to the cordon of deputies, stopping immediately in front of the nervous officers who were protecting the Coffee miners as they changed shifts.

Finally, at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 17, the "general" entered Coffee.

Instead of stopping this time, the silent mass of 600 miners came on, turned the guards aside, and marched into the city. Not a shot was fired. There was no violence. The Coffee miners came out and stayed out.

"General" Bradley and his army made other trips to neighboring towns to strengthen the resolve of striking miners during the closing months of 1897.

By the end of the year, the operators were ready to negotiate, and a joint conference was held in Chicago in January 1898.

The determination of Bradley and men like him across the country had won major concessions in wages and conditions.

The eight-hour day and six-day week were included.

The settlement amounted to a major nationwide victory. Bradley was present at the Virden and Pana riots to enforce the agreement.

He and other men "pooled their moments of glory to achieve an impressive goal," historians wrote.

Computerized crime

By CLARENCE M. KELLEY
Federal Bureau of Investigation

In the forefront of major technological advances has been the computer. Its uses in business, industry, government and other areas have been dramatically expanded, generating countless benefits. There is every reason to believe that this remarkable proliferation will continue in the future and receive additional impetus with increased availability of minicomputers.

In the field of law enforcement, computers have been imaginatively and effectively used as enforcement tools and as aids in analyses, planning and operations.

Although reasonable safeguards can be implemented to protect computer systems, absolute security against misuse cannot be expected.

Not surprisingly, the criminal mind has been quick to devise means to illegally exploit this medium.

While the basic classes of crimes occurring in this technical realm are not new (fraud, embezzlement, and industrial espionage, to name a few), other aspects are — for example, the modus operandi and the nature of the assets attacked.

It is difficult to accurately assess the true extent of the computer crime problem. Many, however, suspect that the number of these offenses reported is small compared to their actual volume.

Certainly, the magnitude of many of these computer-related crimes reported gives cause for serious concern. Losses, in several cases, have approached or exceeded million-dollar totals.

Detection is a major challenge, with most computer crimes detected being discovered purely by chance and then only after considerable time has elapsed since their commission.

Further aggravating this problem is the unfortunate tendency of some administrators not to report such crimes through fears of disclosing existing vulnerabilities or creating other forms of adverse publicity.

Based on recent studies, this type of white-collar criminal generally appears to have several characteristics that set him apart from other lawbreakers.

Typically, the offender is a highly intelligent, youthful male either employed or knowledgeable in the computer technology field.

He usually has no prior criminal record and frequently occupies a position of substantial trust.

It also seems that the prospect of outwitting a complex system frequently motivates him in these acts.

When caught, he tends to rationalize his actions and minimize their criminality.

The threat posed by the computer criminal becomes decidedly more menacing when viewed in terms of society's increasing dependence on computers, particularly in respect to performing key functions.

Aside from encouraging employment of security safeguards for preventing and deterring computer crimes, law enforcement's role in this area is primarily a reactive one.

Currently, most computer crimes fall within the investigative responsibility of state and local law enforcement.

In order to successfully deal with these usually complex offenses, law enforcement officers must possess sophisticated knowledge and specialized skills. Training is therefore, a prime prerequisite.

Programs of this nature should encompass instruction, study and exercises designed to thoroughly familiarize officers with pertinent technical language, systems equipment, and various computer programs.

Other important areas to be covered should include computer security considerations, previous computer crimes, and successful investigative precedents. The difficulties in prosecuting those charged with computer-related crimes represent still another formidable challenge.

Gathering acceptable evidence in a crime where electrical impulses, data tapes, telephone circuits or other similar forms of technology may be elemental is not an easy task.

A dearth of prosecutive precedents and sometimes ill-defined laws relating to this field, a lack of understanding regarding computers, and the absence of clearly established ethical standards in some areas of computer activity create many of the problems underlying this challenge.

The problems are not insurmountable however, and successful prosecutions have been recorded in highly complex computer crimes.

The FBI has recently provided specialized training relative to computer technology and computer fraud to our own special agents, to interested officers attending the FBI National Academy, and to investigate elements of another federal agency which requested such training.

In these endeavors, experts from outside the FBI, as well as our own instructional staff, have been fully utilized.

The instruction provided has been well received, and we certainly intend to make training of this nature available to even more officers.

Not unexpectedly, the rapidly growing role of the computer in our society has created a uniquely challenging field of criminal activity.

Law enforcement must be prepared to effectively counter this highly complex threat with a commensurate degree of knowledge and investigative skill.

Law changes complicate U.S. income tax forms

Third of a series of six articles on 1976 income taxes, prepared by the Southern Chapter of the Illinois CPA Society.

The changes in tax law brought about by the Tax Reform Act of 1976 have led to changes in the tax forms themselves.

These are changes that could spell trouble for the taxpayer who manages to find his way through the tax return filing process by using his returns from previous years as a guide.

With the new information that's called for, the additional lines on the form, the revisions of supplemental forms and accompanying schedules, and the introduction of new tax tables, last year's return isn't going to be as much help as it otherwise would have been.

J. Darrell Burton, president of the Southern Chapter of the Illinois CPA Society, says, "The old tax tables, in which you found out how much tax you owed, were based on adjusted gross income."

"They have been replaced with shorter tables based on taxable income."

"The new tables are easy to use, but before you use them you have to do some figuring not previously required in order to arrive at taxable income."

"These consist of subtracting your deductions (itemized or standard) from your adjusted gross income, and then multiplying the number of exemptions by $750 and subtracting that, also."

"The new tables are to be used by all taxpayers whose taxable income do not exceed $20,000, whether they itemize or take the standard deduction."

"To make room for additional lines on the tax forms, questions asked in previous years about your county of residence — for revenue-sharing purposes — have been dropped," Burton says.

"The so-called 'standard' deduction is no longer as standard as it used to be. It now could be any of three amounts, depending upon one's income level. Determining just what the amount is requires further arithmetic."

Finding one's general tax credit formerly meant simply multiplying the number of exemptions by $30. Now, multiply exemptions by $35, take two per cent of income up to $180, and see which is larger. That's the credit.

"Changes in the tax form are really not terribly complicated, but to people who would rather wrestle alligators than try to find two per cent of anything the problems can appear formidable," Burton comments.

"As always, the old advice about the way to eat an elephant (one bite at a time) still applies. 'Take the tax return form one line at a time and — when you are puzzled — consult the instructions for the line that's causing the trouble.'"

"Also, the task will be made easier if you have at hand all your records for the year: paycheck stubs, W-2 and 1099 forms, bank statements, cancelled checks, receipts, contracts entered into, etc."

"And don't ignore last year's tax return entirely; it will still be of some help as a checklist, especially when it comes to depreciation or other carryovers that extend over more than one year."

"The above materials should all be assembled whether you do your own tax preparation or entrust the task to someone else, and it's always more efficient to get these items together in advance rather than gun running after them one by one as needed."

"Unfortunately, the IRS will have fewer people available than in the past to help what are expected to be more taxpayers than usual looking for assistance.

This means there are likely to be more returns than usual containing errors.

"To avoid them on your return, before mailing it go through it one last time, just double-checking the arithmetic."

"The Illinois CPA Society reminds you that even professional tax advisers find this a worthwhile procedure, and if it works for them, how much more useful it must be for the individual preparing his own return."

Appeal for tax cut, not rebate

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Minority Leader Howard Baker, Tenn., have jointly announced solid Republican support for a permanent tax cut and opposition to President Carter's $50-a-person tax rebate plan.

The Senate Republican Conference on behalf of all 38 Senate Republicans had issued an alternative to the one-shot rebate plan to stimulate the economy. The GOP rejected rebate as an unproductive "temporary gimmick."

Percy and Baker called a news conference to stress Republican solidarity on the minority party's proposals to cut taxes effective April 1 for two fiscal years, give employers tax credits to stimulate hiring, train and employ youth, establish a special home innovation credit, create a housing rehabilitation program, and increase dividend exclusions.

The two-year package would have a gross cost of $26.2 billion, but Republicans maintain that it would reduce the present unemployment rate of 7.3 per cent to 5.5 per cent by the end of 1978—and create 1.8 million to 2.3 million new jobs, including 450,000 training and work experience positions.

Asked why they oppose a rebate now when President Ford had his own one-shot deal, Baker conceded that Ford's "did not stimulate the economy" and Percy insisted that he had opposed it at the outset.

"The lesson we learned then," Baker said, "was that a rebate did not produce the result we expected or wanted. That's why we think we should go with a tax credit now."

Percy said if taxpayers get back $17.5 billion now "it will take effect immediately" in pumping up the economy.

"People in this country want this recession ended right away," Sen. Percy declared. "While Senate Republicans are not in 'total agreement' on their economic package, Percy said that 'all 38 of us stand solidly behind' it."

Percy, long known as a moderate-progressive Republican, pointed out that for the first time that wing of the party met with conservative Republicans at a luncheon meeting.

Not far beside (Sen. Barry Goldwater), Percy seemed to marvel. "And (Sen. Strom Thurmond) was there." He said all shades of Senate Republicans agreed at that meeting to continue their get-togethers the first Tuesday or Wednesday of each month.

"It's really a marvelous step forward," Percy said, "and the best evidence of it is the economic package."

Baker, a conservative compared to Percy, "echoed" the Illinoisan's sentiments. He said he has "taken great hope" from the new spirit of cooperation and he gave Percy much of the credit for the new aura of good will.

Baker said he has "taken no head count among Democrats," but he knows from his "conversations with them there is much appeal in the Republican package."

He guessed Republicans may have a "fifty-fifty chance of substituting it for President Carter's rebate plan."

Proclamation of Thanks

To
B. J. Davis

Due to similarity of name with the common identification of the Superintendent of Schools of Community Unit School District No. 9, numerous telephone calls are made to B. J. Davis of 876-1683 (unrelated to B. J. Davis, Superintendent of Schools), and due to her kindness and understanding, she graciously accepts the annoying interruptions with inquiries about whether or not schools will operate due to weather conditions, etc., and instead of indignation she assists the callers and the superintendent.

Truly this lady is a public servant and deserves our gratitude and thanks.

Dated February 8, 1977

Superintendent of Schools
Granite City, Illinois

DESERVING OF THANKS. A Granite City resident whose days and nights have been disturbed by calls concerning school operations, especially during the recent inclement weather, received this hand-illustrated "proclamation of thanks" from Supt. of Schools B. J. Davis, which noted her helpfulness in assisting callers, rather than expressing indignation and anger. B. J. Davis, whose personal telephone number is 876-1683, is unrelated to the school administrator. Inquiries regarding "tomorrow's school schedule" came as early as 3 a.m., Mrs. Davis said.

Engineers to honor builders

The Southern Illinois Builders Association has been selected as recipient of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers joint honors award. SIBA was selected on the basis of its programs and activities directed toward the building of the Southern Illinois Illinois area and the betterment of the construction industry.

SIBA was cited for continuous efforts to promote the growth and well being of the area it serves.

In the nomination, it was related that the SIBA renders "many valuable services to the engineering profession." SIBA was praised as a liaison between management and labor in the construction industry.

The award was announced by SIBA President Ralph Korte at the association's annual meeting and products fair last week in Belleville. More than 500 contractors attended. The products fair was a trade exhibition of construction equipment, materials and services offered by SIBA firms. SIBA, which is headquartered in Belleville and has a branch office in Marion, represents more than 600 construction firms in Southern Illinois.

The award will be presented May 13 at the awards luncheon of the 1977 annual conference, which will be held in Champagne.

Guest of the club was James Hill, a new resident of Granite City who works at the Illinois Power Co.

GC Lions seek members

The Granite City Lions Club is conducting a membership drive, according to Harley Davis, president, who said an official charter night will be held in March.

The newly-organized Granite City Lions Club meets at the Top of the Barrel Restaurant on the second and fourth Thursdays.

Dr. John Galbreath presented a program to the Lions, entitled "Anatomy of a Whiplash," concerning the causes of whiplash and the effects on other parts of the body such as the back and arms.

According to Dr. Galbreath, a chiropractor, 90 percent of all whiplash injuries result in back injury, and paralysis often develops as a result of pinched nerves in the neck area.

The speaker said that automobile accidents are the primary cause of whiplash injury when a vehicle virtually is forced out from under the victim.

He told the club the vertebrae in the neck keep the head from shipping too far, but the stress can cause severe damage.

Dr. Galbreath cautioned the Lions Club members that many whiplash effects go unnoticed, because they do not surface in the form of immediate pain or discomfort, but arise later to cause problems.

Guest of the club was James Hill, a new resident of Granite City who works at the Illinois Power Co.

New anti-delinquency effort

Reacting to the findings of a study on juvenile delinquency which alleged that one-third of Illinois teenagers have committed a serious crime, the State Board of Education has called on all segments of the community to join with schools to develop practical programs to help youngsters turn away from delinquency and toward responsibility.

Jack Witkowski, chairman of the State Board, termed the findings of the study, conducted by the Illinois Department of Mental Health, "very disturbing."

"Frankly, the schools cannot teach responsibility and moral conduct alone," he said. "We need a partnership with the home, the church, local merchants and the community."

"But education must include 'responsibility' as one of the fundamentals." Responsibility education — the "fourth R" — has been designated by the board as one of its action priorities. To implement the concept, State Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin announced three corrective steps:

1. Appointment of a Law Education Commission authorized by the executive order of former Governor Dan Walker.
2. Selection of 50 school districts to participate in a "responsibility education" network of schools.
3. Designation of a responsibility education conference to be held March 17-18 in Decatur.

The commission will include: Chief Justice James B. Parsons of the U.S. District Court; Samuel Nolan, deputy superintendent, Chicago Police Department; William White, presiding judge, Juvenile Division, Cook County; and Professor Cherif Bassiouni, DePaul University Law School.

Also included are: Francis J. Householder, president, Illinois Bar Association; Dr. F. Gene Miller, executive secretary, Illinois Council for the Social Studies, and other educators, attorneys and students.

Materials developed by the American Bar Association, Constitutional Foundation Rights and Law in American Society Foundation will be actively promoted in the schools.

2. Selection of 50 school districts to participate in a "responsibility education" network of schools.
3. Designation of a responsibility education conference to be held March 17-18 in Decatur.

Dr. Joseph Cronin, who will give an address on "Responsibility Education, the Fourth R."

Dr. Harry Broudy, professor emeritus, University of Illinois.

Dr. Howard Mehlinger, director of the Social Studies Development Center and professor of history, Indiana University.

Dr. Harry Weibank, national director of Training and Education at Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago.

Dr. Edwin Fenton of the Carnegie-Mellon Education Center.

Norman Gross, American Bar Association.

David Brionton, warden, Illinois State Prison.

And Mrs. Carol Kimmel, national PTA president and a member of the Southern Illinois University board.
